

Westland resident Gives heart to man

By NANCY ABNER
Of The Press Staff

ANN ARBOR — The heart of a Westland man today beats in the chest of Gerald K. Rector, a 43-year-old Livonia equipment operator, who became the University Medical Center's third heart transplant recipient early this morning.

Rector's pulse and blood pressure were reported normal later this morning although an artificial respirator is being used to aid his breathing during the first 24 hours following a five-hour operation completed about 5:40 a.m.

In performing over the 100th heart transplant to date, a 23-man team of doctors, nurses and technicians used the heart of Roland J. Hoag, a 24-year-old Ford Motor Co. employee from Westland. Hoag died Saturday night after surgery to remedy a cerebral aneurysm — a weakening of a blood vessel in the brain — was unsuccessful.

Hoag had been admitted to Wayne General Hospital last Monday complaining of severe headaches. Following surgery Wednesday and Thursday, he was then transferred to the University Medical Center Saturday as a potential heart donor.

Although Hoag had not specifically given his permission for the heart transplant, his wife authorized the operation stating that her husband had shown favorable interest in the other two successful heart transplants at the University Medical Center.

Her husband "would have wanted it that way," Mrs. Roberta S. Hoag said. He was the sort of guy who would give you the shirt off his back. He was a very kind-hearted guy."

Rector, admitted to the University of Michigan

Hospital Jan. 6 to await a heart transplant, suffered from the same heart disease as previous U-M heart recipients Philip T. Barnum of Kalamazoo and Donald Kaminsky of Alpena.

All three men suffered from cardiomyopathy — degeneration of the heart muscle.

The Livonia man, expected to live no longer than this summer without a new heart, had decided a year ago to undergo a heart transplant operation.

According to University Medical Center senior director Dr. Roger B. Nelson, the heart transplant operation employed the basic techniques used in the two previous transplants.

However, the fact that Rector's heart had enlarged to five times the normal size made the operation "the hardest one we've done," according to the chief surgeon — unnamed, according to hospital policy — who headed the transplant team.

This complication, while prolonging the operation, is not expected to affect the new heart's functioning, the hospital's official report stated this morning.

Rector will remain in the cardiac recovery room for several days, and then move to a laminar air-flow room in the hospital's clinical research unit. This room has a specially filtered air system which changes the air about 600 times an hour as a precaution against airborne bacteria.

At a press conference this morning, Nelson reported that both previous U-M heart transplant recipients were "doing quite well." Barnum, who received the first heart transplant last September, is now working on a part-time basis.

Receiving a heart transplant Dec. 2, Kaminsky "now runs up four flights of stairs" and went ice fishing recently, Nelson said.

Preliminary work to get U-M's third heart transplant under way began at 9 p.m. Saturday when an electroencephalogram (EEG) reading indicated that Hoag's brain wave tracing was flat — indicating no life. Permitting 24 hours to elapse on the remote chance that the Westland man might revive, doctors took another EEG reading Sunday at 9 p.m., which again registered no life.

During this time, Hoag's breathing was sustained by an artificial respirator. Blood and tissue samples from both the recipient and donor were cross-matched satisfactorily both in Ann Arbor and in a Los Angeles laboratory.

Loan makers at odds:

Foreign aid men Are balking At 'tight $' rein

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign aid officials are chafing under what they consider to be too-tight strings on how they dispense dollars to developing countries.

The strings are being kept taut by the Treasury Department, whose secretary heads the Cabinet committee responsible for curbing the U.S. balance of payments drain.

The situation has produced a running conflict between specialists of the aid-administering Agency for International Development and of the Treasury Department.

So far disagreements involving particular aid programs have been settled on a case by case basis, officials say. But the arguments go on.

Specifically at issue is the application of this policy to the general purpose aid loans designed to help countries improve their foreign exchange position and make local economic improvements.

Under the balance of payments injunction, AID has drawn up "positive lists" of U.S. goods for which the aid-receiving countries must spend the money from the U.S. loans. The lists are confined to American products not already bought widely in those countries.

Treasury and Commerce Department specialists see the positive lists as a tool for promoting new U.S. exports and preventing aid-receiving countries from buying, with U.S. aid funds, the American goods they would otherwise purchase anyway with their own money. They say this helps reduce the U.S. balance of payments drain.

AID takes a dimmer view of the system, on grounds that it damages the overseas assistance program more than the dollar drain savings are worth. Officials say it has caused partial problems recently in loan programs for Chile, Bolivia and Colombia.

AID specialists contend that:

—Tying AID money to the positive list forces aid-receiving countries to buy U.S. goods which are not internationally competitive and may cost 10 to 40 per cent more than like items from foreign suppliers. Thus the U.S. taxpayer is not getting as much out of his aid dollars.

—The most effective way for an aid-receiving country to meet positive list requirements is through using import and exchange controls. But this conflicts with U.S. policy favoring freer trade.

—Some positive lists have been so limited that importers in the aid-receiving countries are reluctant to make purchases. This has slowed down some aid programs excessively.

Lounsbury tells Of leaving EMU

"Compelling factors that I just couldn't turn down," are causing Dr. John F. Lounsbury, head of the geology and geography department at Eastern Michigan University, to leave his post.

He will become head of the geography department at Arizona State University in Tempe, probably in September.

Since 1963, he has been director of the Commission on College Geography, supported by the National Science Foundation, which has kept him on half-time at EMU since 1963. He will continue as director in Arizona.

Lounsbury has been on the EMU faculty since 1961. Born in Minnesota and reared in Illinois, Dr. Lounsbury received his bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Illinois and his PhD at Northwestern University.

Prior to coming to EMU, he was field director of rural land classification in Puerto Rico from 1949-51, a government program known as "operation Bootstrap." In Dayton, O., he was chairman of the Committee on Studies, supported by the Ford Foundation. He was chairman of the earth sciences department at Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Dr. Lounsbury lives at 737 Mansfield St. He and his wife, Dorothea, are the parents of three sons, John Jr., home from military service in Vietnam, Craig and James, both Roosevelt High School students.

Manchurian border turns quiet

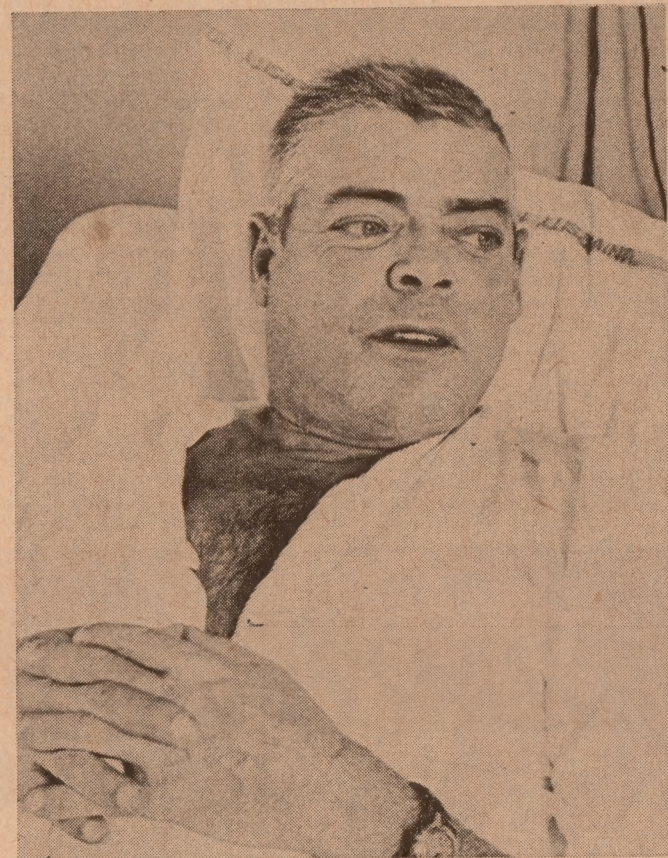

MOSCOW (AP) — The Manchurian border appeared quiet today after another weekend clash between Soviet and Red Chinese troops. Pravda said local elections were held on the Soviet side Sunday and "100 per cent of the electorate voted except those who fell in battle."

There was still no word on casualties in the battle that began Friday and resumed Saturday on disputed Damansky-Chenpao island in the frozen Ussuri River. Moscow said 31 Russian soldiers were killed there in a clash March 2, while the Chinese also reported many troops killed.

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper said Soviet frontier guards fought Saturday for seven hours under a hail of fire. There was no fuss, no fidgeting. In the extremely complicated situation each knew his task and acted selflessly and courageously."

The paper concluded: "A powerful artillery barrage struck the firing positions of the Maoists who instigated the clash, and a fast attack swept all the raiders off Damansky Island."

University of Michigan's third heart transplant recipient Gerald K. Rector, a 43-year-old equipment operator from Livonia, has been awaiting a new heart for over two months at the University Medical Center. He is in good condition today after a transplant early this morning.

Fatal plane has 11 from Michigan

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Eleven persons from Michigan were among tentatively identified victims of a Venezuelan airplane crash Sunday that claimed 150 lives—the worst tragedy in aviation history.

Among Michigan victims were two Clark Equipment Co. executives and their wives, a St. Clair couple and another man and wife from Farmington.

There were believed to have been 47 Americans among the 150 who were killed in the crash at Maracaibo, Venezuela.

Four other Clark Equipment Co. executives and their wives escaped, having returned Sunday on another airliner after a week-long sales meeting of the company in Caracas, where one of its overseas plants is located.

Three other Clark couples, however, were among the victims, but none of them lived in Michigan.

Michigan victims identified by immigration authorities at Caracas International Airport or the U.S. Embassy here were:

—Albert G. Davidson Jr. and his wife, Alice, of Battle Creek and Robert L. Brown Jr. and his wife, Jane, of Marshall. Brown was general products manager for Clark and Davidson was marketing and service manager at Battle Creek.

—Ben H. Duengel, 65, and his wife, LaClair, 57, of St. Clair, who had operated a men's store in Richmond, Mich., for 25 years and who had been vacationing in South America for five weeks.

—John Hacker, 56, president of Consumers Petroleum Co., of Detroit, and his wife, Lucille, 50, of Farmington.

Authorities had no home town addresses for three others they listed from Michigan. They were Joseph Flint Rice, whose passport was issued in Los Angeles, and Basil Richard Deelsnyder and Jane Deelsnyder.

Clark Equipment, whose headquarters are in Buchanan, Mich., said the Davidsons had three children, Kathleen, 13; Diane, 12, and Michael, 9; the Browns two, Robert 13, and Jeffrey, 9. All the children had been left home.

Clark executives who escaped by taking another plane were Robert Braun, president and general manager of the industrial truck division; Charles O. Loomis, regional marketing manager, and Roman E. Boruta, a plant manager. They were accompanied by their wives.

Besides the three couples from Michigan, victims associated with Clark included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Venezia of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. William Benjamin of Virginia Beach, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ashmore, also of Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Moyle married her husband in 1944 while "the handsome young man" was a staff sergeant on a B-27 crew. She was 22.

She said she met her husband while talking to a group of American soldiers during the first month that American Air Force men had come to England.

Mrs. Moyle was born in Dublin but moved to Manchester, England, when she was five years old. Both her parents are dead.

Mrs. Moyle's first child, Patricia, now 23, was born in England. Moyle already had returned to the United States and Patricia was 18 months old before he saw her for the first time. Mrs. Moyle arrived in America in 1947.

The Moyles now have four other children: David J., 19, serving in the Navy; Robert W., 21; James E., 17, in St. John's High School, and Christopher J., 14, in St. John's Elementary School.

Soapy to succeed Hannah at MSU?

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, said today that former Gov. G. Mennen Williams would be the Democrats' choice for president of Michigan State University.

However, Ryan said, he hadn't heard any official discussions calling for Williams to replace retiring John Hannah.

"It he (Williams) is interested in the job and if he won the support of the board of trustees," Ryan said, "I certainly would think he would be the overwhelming choice of organizational Democrats."

In other action, Ryan said the deadline for submitting bills in the House would have to be extended, probably for at least three weeks.

The deadline was today. But Ryan explained that the Legislative Service Bureau was understaffed and probably would need three weeks to write legislation requested by House members.

Ryan also said he had requested early action on a bill authorizing distribution of $335 million in water pollution control bonds.

As for the $100 million recreation bond issue, Ryan said, he would prefer to have further study made before deciding what form the bill should take.

Westlander gives heart

At 10:40 p.m. yesterday Hoag was pronounced officially dead, and his heart was removed and, in a procedure lasting about an hour and 15 minutes, placed in Rector's chest. At 2 a.m. the heart began beating spontaneously, with no shock or other stimulus being required.

The heart pump, which had sustained Rector, for over two hours was removed at 2:40 a.m. At 5:40 a.m. the incision was closed and Rector, awake, was removed to the cardiac recovery room.

Rector, a native of Kalamazoo, and his wife, an office worker for the United Auto Workers Local 157 in Inkster, have one child — a 15-year-old daughter.

A heavy equipment operator engineer, Rector had been unable to work for the past two years because of heart trouble. He helped build Willow Run Airport in 1941, and has worked on I-94, I-96 and I-75 highway construction projects in Michigan.

A native of Philadelphia, Hoag came to Westland last summer after serving six years in the Navy as a machinist's mate. Employed as a product technician at Ford Motor Company research and engineering center in Dearborn, he had no children.

Hoag, who would have been 25 tomorrow, had mentioned headaches since last June, according to his wife. But "he was not a complainer," Mrs. Hoag said, adding that Hoag attributed the headaches to sinus trouble and the tensions natural to a new job in a new city.

35,000 Returns Are Incorrect On New Surtax

(UPI) — More than 35,000 early income tax filers in one region will get late refunds or will have to pay more tax this year because they misfigured the new federal surtax, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) said yesterday.

A spokesman said the IRS feared the unusually large number of early errors were establishing a pattern that could confuse the refund process.

About 26 per cent of all early tax filers either forgot to figure the surtax or miscalculated it, he said.

Surtax Errors Slow Returns Seek Qualified Help, IRS Says

Federal income taxpayers can expect a delay in receiving their federal income tax refunds this year because of errors in figuring the new tax surcharge.

Tax returns filed early at one Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Center, shows "an unusually high percentage of returns with mistakes in computation of the surcharge," according to the IRS district director.

Federal income taxpayers seeking professional help in filing their 1968 Federal income tax returns should select only qualified and reputable advisers.

Financing, action needed On Ford Lake proposal

A special meeting which could have a far-reaching impact on the Ypsilanti community and its citizens will be held tomorrow night. At stake is development by the city and Ypsilanti Township of Ford Lake, what has been heralded as the first of many hoped-for joint undertakings to the mutual benefit of both governmental areas.

The proposal to have the city and township take over control and development of the lake as a major recreational asset to the community has been kicked around for more than two years. The Ford Motor Co. is offering to donate the $2 million lake and some adjoining property to the city and township, providing they establish a recreation area. The automaker, which owns Ford Dam, otherwise has to comply with a federal order requiring public use of and access to the lake as a condition for licensing the dam.

Negotiations between city and township officials have been hot and cold for the two years since Ford made its offer. Both sides agree the lake is a potentially invaluable asset to the community, but the how-do-we-go-about-it talks have run into occasional snags.

The latest snag which some feel now threatens the entire project involves the age-old problem of money — or lack of it. At least one township official reportedly is holding up completion of the city-township-Ford agreement pending an accompanying land trade deal with the automaker.

The feeling has been repeatedly expressed by both city and township officials that acquisition of the lake would be a "tremendous asset" to the community — if enough local funds are readily available for proper development. If the money is not forthcoming, the lake could turn into a giant liability for the two governmental areas.

The possibility of taking over the lake and then seeking county, state or federal funds for development should not even be considered. If the lake is to be an Ypsilanti recreational area, as compared to a Washtenaw County, Michigan or federal lake and park, necessary funds for developing and operating it will have to be locally raised.

Township Supervisor Fred H. Lunde, in calling the special Township Board meeting for tomorrow night, said, "We have had good cooperation with the city . . . It's time the Township Board takes a vote."

Mr. Lunde is right. It's time for some action. The City Council and Township Board should solve the financing problems and then proceed rapidly with acquiring and developing Ford Lake as a community recreation area.

Patman urges new transit plan

WASHINGTON — A major drive is being mounted in Congress to have American motorists foot a large portion of the future cost of rapid mass transit projects planned by the nation's big cities.

Launched by a group of lawmakers headed by Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.) and Sen. Harrison A. Williams, Jr., (D-N.J.), the controversial campaign is designed to earmark federal monies now being raised by the seven per cent excise tax on new car purchases.

A rapid mass transit trust fund modeled after the Highway Trust Fund, which earmarks road-users taxes to the Interstate Highway System, would be established under legislation now being pushed by the Williams-Patman group.

Their formula would set aside an estimated $1.8 billion between 1971 and 1974 through a graduated diversion of the auto-excise tax revenues. Monies from this tax, scheduled to total $1.9 billion during fiscal year 1970, now goes directly into the Treasury.

To drum up public support for shifting these revenues to help the big cities lick their transportation bottlenecks, Representative Patman, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, has scheduled open hearings on the trust-fund proposal after the Easter congressional recess.

The nation's big city mayors, chamber of commerce spokesmen and rapid transit officials are being lined up by Williams and Patman to testify in support to their controversial measure.

"They're all with us — to a man and to an institution," Sen. Williams tells Senate colleagues in urging their backing to support tapping of this huge revenue source to help big city commuters.

Significantly, Williams and Patman have won tentative backing from the Nixon Administration.

While there has been no agreement yet on the earmarking of the auto-excise tax revenues, Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe has endorsed the idea of creating a special trust fund to pour billions into new rapid transit systems for the nation's congested metropolitan areas. The opposition to earmarking of the auto-excise tax will come from the American Automobile Association and a number of governors and state highway officials.

They are concerned that the move will lead to the diversion of other road-user taxes which are now earmarked for spending on the nation's highways.

The entire federal mass transit program now amounts to about $175 million a year and depends upon annual congressional appropriations. The opponents want Congress to keep that system.

AAA officials say privately that they hope to have the Patman bill, since it involves taxes, shifted to the House Ways and Means Committee, headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.). In the past, Mills' committee has vigorously opposed the earmarking of revenue from the seven per cent auto-excise tax.

This jurisdiction switch will be strongly opposed by Patman and Williams on the grounds the Patman bill is an amendment to the Mass Transportation Act of 1964, which was originally handled by the Banking and Currency Committee.

In handling military deserters and refugees from foreign countries, Sweden has operated under a double standard.

While asylum is granted American military deserters, the Swedish government has gone out of its way to turn over to Russia military refugees that it requests.

In discussing the motives of the Swedish government in establishing this double standard, the subcommittee report concludes:

"One can only speculate as to the motives of the Swedish government in sending thousands of World War II refugee soldiers to Russia and the fate awaiting them, while today the Swedish government gives aid and comfort to deserters and defectors who have fled to Sweden to escape U.S. military jurisdiction and punishment for their crime."

Dissatisfied teacher 'should change job'

TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Elizabeth: First let me congratulate you on having a husband as dedicated to his job as you have. It certainly is gratifying to know that we still have this type of teacher in our school system.

After carefully reading your letter, Elizabeth, I realized that your mathematics were either wrong or you used the words "gross pay" in place of "net pay."

I'm a little older so I never had the opportunity to learn your "new math" but when I went to school, $7,500 divided by 9 equals $833.33 per month. Also, whoever informed you that a factory worker receives "free" Blue Cross? I will let you in on a little secret. They received it a few years back in lieu of a pay increase.

You also stated that your husband teaches history and government and coaches football and basketball. What you did not tell us was which of these he was receiving $7,500 for, and which one he was receiving an hourly rate for over and above the $7,500.

I also spend many hours at my kitchen table for no pay preparing myself that I may do a better job the next day. I also work a full eight hours each day plus casual time.

I do agree with you, Elizabeth, when you say your husband has room discipline problems that prevent him from doing his job properly. I'm sure that many teachers have this problem because they fail to discipline the student themselves, or are not a strong enough teacher to handle the situation. Therefore, they send the student to a counselor for discipline. Elizabeth, if some other person has to discipline your child, then that particular teacher is not strong, nor is that teacher respected by the student. . .

Elizabeth, I hope I have not offended you in any way because your letter indicates the type of teacher that I as a taxpayer and parent do not mind paying for. But let's set the record straight. A college student who goes into the teaching field knows what the minimum and maximum salary structure is. I feel that the continued demand for more from the public eliminates the teacher from the professional field of employment. All teachers are not of the same caliber. Some relate to students better than others; they should merit increases, others should not.

You stated the public wants better education for their children. I think the public wants the education for their children that they are now paying for. I, for one, am getting tired of sitting at the kitchen table night after night teaching my children what they should be taught by the teacher. I would say to you that if your husband is dissatisfied with his salary that he should change jobs. . . It is too bad that people get so tied up in the establishment of society that we cannot sign our own names to articles for fear of reprisal.

Kitchen Table Teacher

Parent claims school board abuse

TO THE EDITOR:

In this day when "gaps" and "lack of communications" are so much in our society, the Willow Run taxpayers were really exposed to it on the night of March 6. There is no such thing as communication between the school board and the people. This has been going on for years and is so bad at present, most doubt if there will ever be an understanding.

This letter does not contain just my observations or just what I say. I've heard these same things from so many the most voted "yes" on the last millage. We know that over the years one could get no or very little satisfaction from attending a board meeting, although the new superintendent claims it was not true about the closed board meetings as reported in The Press. The comments heard on the letter he wrote was "He'll learn, he hasn't been around as long as we have."

On March 6 the people there seemed to have hope of finding out something. We were given paper and pencil and told to write our questions. Some wanted to ask from the floor, which is really the democratic way of doing it, but were told only written. We were really floored when the moderator would pass the slips to members of the board to okay before asking, and a lot did not get asked.

Maybe some of the questions didn't seem important but someone wanted to know, and there's a lot everyone wants to know. We have to be very careful with our money to run our homes, when we can't afford something we have to do without. . .

We think of the kids and want the best for them but we want the money to be spent for them. Teachers and supplies are what they need, and it doesn't seem to matter how many are over in the administration offices with carpeting and air conditioning and attending meetings and conventions. . .

We parents are thinking about the kids and what's best for them — the board claims that's their aim. Then it's too bad for the kids that their taxpaying parents are treated as though they are not good enough to know what happens to their tax money or that maybe the board was glad to get rid of the Mansion House and the ghosts in the closets.

Washington Report

CIA unhurt by protests

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Recruiting efforts of the Central Intelligence Agency have suffered not at all from the picketing and student protest which have greeted CIA representatives on college and university campuses across the nation.

On the contrary, CIA personnel experts believe campus demonstrations may have given a stimulus to the spy agency's recruiting program in some academic communities. Certain vacancies are being filled with applicants who are better qualified than their predecessors of a few years back.

This is the gist of information which is being supplied by CIA to the congressional committees which ride herd on the agency's operations. The data runs counter to published reports which suggest that CIA has been getting a cold shoulder on the campus.

The CIA summaries suggest, in fact, that whatever its cathartic effect on the pent-up emotions of campus militants, the much publicized wave of anti-CIA protest, has been little more than an inconvenience and annoyance for the agency.

Most importantly, CIA is telling its congressional watchdogs that it can discern no lessening of interest in intelligence careers on college and university campuses.

Its reports indicate, however, that CIA has tailored its recruiting program to avoid confrontations which might embarrass college administrators. If on-campus interviews can be conducted without incident, CIA representatives conduct them. When trouble begins to develop, CIA recruiters withdraw and do their interviewing elsewhere.

Some interviews have been shifted to regional offices which are close to some of the nation's big academic centers.

As a result, CIA is reporting that it has been able to move up a notch in filling vacancies which require certain academic qualifications. Some jobs which were filled with holders of B.A. degrees a couple of years ago are now getting holders of graduate degrees, the agency says.

Far from the fictional cloak-and-dagger image, much of CIA's activity is scholarly research and analysis. It makes no secret of its need for job applicants qualified in a wide variety of academic disciplines.

CIA's brochure states: "The CIA needs scientists, economists, engineers, linguists, mathematicians, historians, artists, lawyers, editors, administrators, librarians, experts in communications and data processing; in short, people trained in all fields of study."

CIA's bright appraisal of its protest-plagued recruiting program is rosy enough to suggest that it might be self-serving. Government agencies have been known to stress the positive in their dealings with Congress.

The optimistic CIA view gets qualified support, however, from an assessment of campus protests against Dow Chemical Co., another favorite target of student militancy because of its manufacture of napalm.

H. D. Doan, Dow's president, has stated that the company can detect no adverse effect on its college recruiting program or on the calibre of students seeking employment.

Doan comments, however, that no one can know whether the company might lose an outstanding scientist of the future. He thinks that in the long run, "We could be hurt in many ways."

Cong Suffers Big setback Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S., Thai and South Vietnamese forces killed 281 enemy troops in heavy fighting around Saigon and in the Mekong Delta and uncovered 40 graves containing another 152 bodies south of Da Nang, military spokesman reported today.

U.S. infantrymen from the 9th Division killed 131 Viet Cong in a series of five clashes over the weekend in the upper half of the Mekong Delta, the U.S. Command announced.

Two Americans were reported wounded in the clashes Saturday and Sunday. U.S. spokesmen explained that helicopter gunships and artillery accounted for at least a third of the enemy dead, and another 19 were killed in an ambush.

The fighting occurred near the provincial capital of Ben Tre and the district capital of Cai Be, 40 to 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. headquarters said the actions were part of a multi-battalion operation under way since last Dec. 1. A spokesman said more than 4,200 Viet Cong have been killed in the operation and more than 2,350 captured. U.S. losses have been 148 killed and 1,366 wounded, he said.

Thailand's Black Panther Division reported 400 of its men repulsed an attack early Sunday by more than 1,000 Viet Cong only 18 miles east of Saigon. The defenders said at least 109 Viet Cong were killed and four captured.

Two Thais were killed and 19 wounded, the communique said.

As the Viet Cong's spring offensive went into its 23rd day, about 30 rocket and mortar attacks were reported.

on allied bases and towns Sunday night. Two were followed by infantry assaults on American bases northeast of Saigon.

About 70 enemy soldiers hit a night bivouac of men from the 1st Air Cavalry Division 25 miles northeast of Saigon rounds into a 25th Infantry Division bivouac, then with machine guns, small arms and rocket-propelled grenades — close-quarter fighting lasted three hours, and when it ended 10 Americans had been killed and 17 wounded. A sweep of the battlefield produced nine enemy bodies.

Twenty-eight miles to the northwest of Saigon, enemy soldiers fired 10 mortar followed with a ground attack, firing rocket-propelled grenades and small arms.

For two hours the Americans returned the fire, blazing away with .50-caliber machine guns mounted on armored personnel carriers. A sweep at dawn turned up the bodies of 30 North Vietnamese soldiers, U.S. headquarters said, while one American was wounded.

Paratrooper strength is one of the military muscles the U.S. is flexing as it continues Operation Focus Retina. Americans are using N. Korea as the 'front' in this history making exercise. (AP Photo via Seoul)

Airborne troops conclude Longest air operation ever

YOJU, South Korea (AP) — Led by a two-star general and a Medal of Honor sergeant, 1,320 U.S. paratroopers leaped into South Korea today at the climax of an 8,500-mile trans-Pacific assault operation. It began five days of war games called Focus Retina.

The men of the 82nd Airborne Division were flown from Ft. Bragg, N.C., to the muddy reaches of the North Han River, 35 miles south of Seoul, in what the U.S. military said was the longest air operation in history.

C141 Starlifter jet transports ferried the first batch of 720 soldiers into the operations area from Okinawa, two and a half hours away. Delayed 24 hours by a snowstorm here Sunday, they completed the journey from North Carolina in close to 55 hours. Maj. Gen. John R. Deane Jr., their commander, and Sgt. 1. C. Charles D. Morris, who won the Medal of Honor in Vietnam, were the first to hit the silk as the gray parachutes dotted the sky.

While the airdrops were taking place, North Korea called a special meeting of the Military Armistice Commission at Panmunjom to demand the exercise be canceled. It was the second North Korean protest in a week.

The U.S. delegate, Maj. Gen. James B. Knapp, rejected the North Korean demand. In a reference to a sharp increase of hostile North Korean action over the weekend in which seven Americans and a South Korean were killed, he said:

"Your naked aggression convinces the United Nations Command that exercises such as Focus Retina will continue to be necessary to defeat aggression whenever and wherever it may come."

Before the paratroopers jumped, other C141s dropped the battalion's vehicles and 105mm howitzers into the area.

Less than 15 minutes after the men from Okinawa landed, another 600 men of the 82nd, moved to Korea several days ago, jumped in to join them.

The American show took place an hour after 600 South Korean paratroopers had set the stage with a smoothly executed jump to repel "invaders" from the mythical Communist country of Hatakal.

Bonesteel, watching the drop, said that the exercise demonstrated "magnificent preplanning" and was a "vivid demonstration" of the capability of the U.S. Strike Command to move to trouble spots anywhere in the world on short notice.

After the paratroopers secured a bridgehead and defend it against "aggressor" attacks, 7,000 troops from the U.S. 7th Infantry Division based in Korea will launch a series of assaults that will end Friday when objectives are seized.

At Panmunjom, North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Choon-sun charged that U.N. troops fired first in the border incident Saturday. He said that this and other armed clashes along the demilitarized zone as well as the Focus Retina exercise were part of U.S. preparations for a new war in Korea.

"Your allegation is a particularly deceitful misrepresentation of the truth," Knapp replied.

Israeli planes strike Jordan second time

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes attacked Jordan today for the second straight day, hitting suspected Arab guerrilla bases in the foothills of the Gilead Mountains southeast of the Sea of Galilee.

An army spokesman said four or five planes strafed and bombed Arab gun positions that fired missiles at Israeli settlements in the area Sunday night, touching off an artillery duel.

Earlier Sunday Israeli planes raided three big Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan. The Israeli army said all planes returned safely, but in Amman a spokesman for the Al Fatah guerrilla organization claimed its anti-aircraft guns downed six of the attacking jets. He said two crashed inside Jordan and the other four in Israeli territory.

One of the targets was only six miles from Amman; it was the closest attack to the Jordanian capital since the 1967 war.

A Jordanian spokesman said only civilian targets were hit, resulting in four dead and at least seven wounded. The Palestine Liberation Organization, the guerrilla coalition, said three guerrillas were killed and four wounded.

The PLO said the dead included Maj. Fayed Jarad, 30, "one of the chief guerrilla commanders."

Israel did not say how many planes participated in the raids, but the PLO said 18 planes participated in one strike, using "rockets, napalm and machine guns."

Prime Minister designate Golda Meir presented her new government to the Knesset today and made no changes in the late Levi Eshkol's Cabinet. She was expected to win a quick vote of confidence.

Mrs. Meir told the 120-man legislative assembly she would not accept any settlement imposed by the Big Four powers unless it agreed with Israel's terms. Reminding other countries they would never dream of entrusting the solution of their own problems to other parties, she said the small state of Israel asks them to understand "that in matters affecting our existence, no decision can be adopted without us, nor can any recommendation be formulated without our consent."

She said establishment of a stable peace in the region depends on the Arab states and reiterated Israel's insistence that it can come about only through direct negotiations.

She warned the Arab states that if war comes again, "there is no doubt in my heart we shall be victorious."

The Lebanese army announced that an Israeli patrol intruded into Lebanon Sunday and was driven back by border guards. The Lebanese claimed a number of casualties, but there was no confirmation from Israel.

In East Jerusalem, Israeli security forces destroyed four houses belonging to Arabs accused of being part of the sabotage ring responsible for three deadly explosions in the Holy City recently. Residents were warned to move out before the houses were flattened by bulldozers, police said.

The owners are in custody with about 200 Arabs suspected of belonging to a sabotage ring operating in the occupied west bank, Jerusalem and the Gaza Strip.

In the Gaza Strip, an Israeli patrol came under bazooka attack Sunday night near Erez, but the army said there were no serious casualties.

Israeli police also arrested an 18-year-old Arab girl in the Strip after she hurled two hand grenades at an army patrol, slightly wounding three soldiers.

All but one crewman Saved in gulf mishap

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — All but one of 31 crew members were saved from the foggy Gulf of Mexico after an engine room explosion sent the Liberian freighter Vaniqueur to the bottom 140 miles at sea.

The U.S. Navy destroyer escort Hyman, cruising through fog in the area reported by a radio distress signal, picked up 24 men Saturday night after they had drifted 24 hours in two stormtossed lifeboats.

Three hours earlier the British freighter Arbitrator had stumbled on six other men in an inflatable life raft.

The Coast Guard pressed an air-sea search for the only crew member unaccounted for.

"When they found us it was a miracle. A miracle," said Jaime Echeverry, 24, of Cali, Colombia, one of the men in the lifeboats.

Echeverry and other crewmen said the explosion occurred Friday night. Crewman Eusebio Rodolfo Nunez of Buenos Aires said he heard a dull thud and another sailor came to his sleeping quarters and told him "water was inundating the ship."

The Vaniqueur, 580 feet long, carried 20,000 tons of sugar en route from Vera Cruz to New Orleans.

MRS. WILLIAM T. BROWNE

Timing for home advised

A homemaker must schedule her own time because each household is different, says Mrs. William T. Browne, who was named Ypsilanti's "Woman of the Year" in the homemaking category last spring.

"What is most important to us" is the question posed by Mrs. Browne as she started her talk last week to the Prospect Child Study Club at the meeting at Mrs. Russell O. Merriman's home at 535 Brookside Dr.

"Time Management for Busy Mothers" was topic for Mrs. Browne, who won her "Woman of the Year—Homemaker" title in the annual Federation of Women's Clubs contest a year ago. Mrs. Browne, wife of the Methodist pastor at Eastern Michigan University, is also a member of the City of Ypsilanti Human Relations Commission, an appointive board.

"Is it really more important to get our dusting done today or to listen to the children, bake a cake, or listen to a neighbor who needs someone to talk to," Mrs. Browne asked.

She stressed that each household has things that must be done at certain times.

She suggested a woman allot time for personal attention to herself such as to have her hair done and to enjoy a leisurely hot bath.

Join clubs, she advised, but just enough to be comfortable and not making too many outside organizations for being able to contribute effectively in each of them.

"Find time to talk with your husband every day," the minister's wife advised.

"Whether it's that extra cup of coffee in the morning, lunch together while the children are at school or in time together in the evening after the children have gone to bed."

Mrs. Browne pointed out "It's true we can put many jobs off until another day, if we have something more important to do at the present, but don't get so far behind that it's hopeless."

Outside interests are important, she stressed. If a mother doesn't have a job outside of the home, she should develop some outside interests to be a more interesting and stimulating person.

The minister's wife mentioned that many women hate to say "No" when asked to do church work. "It is true that we who belong to a church must do our part to the best of our ability but we can all only do so much," she said.

Officers of the Prospect Child Study Club were elected during the business meeting.

Mrs. William Pitts will take the post of president. Other officers are: Mrs. Russell Merriman, vice president; Mrs. David Cryslar, recording secretary; Mrs. Wayne Spike, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Heater, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Hogue, press reporter.

St. Patrick's Day provided the theme for the refreshment table where members were served dessert by the co-hostesses, Mrs. William Heater, Mrs. Harold Britton and Mrs. Arthur Dykman.

Songs, beliefs Of Ireland key Club program

Two Irish songs and recollections of life in Ireland were the program presented for Summit Study Club by the president, Mrs. Ralph McDonald, for its program last week.

The St. Patrick's program was presented by Mrs. McDonald when she entertained the club at her home at 1206 Kingwood Dr.

The first 36 years of her life in Ireland was recalled by Mrs. McDonald's mother, Mrs. Sarah Bridges. She spoke to the group about the beliefs and superstitions of the Irish people. Mrs. Bridges lived in Dublin until she was 36.

Mrs. Bridges and another daughter, Mrs. William Ealy of Ann Arbor assisted Mrs. McDonald with what was termed a very authentic Irish party.

The two Irish songs, "Dear Little Shamrock" and "Galway Bay" were sung by Mrs. McDonald to close the program.

Mrs. Edith Gale led meditations using the book of John, commenting on the promise of life eternal, and concluding with the poem, "Rainbow of Hope."

The club's April meeting will be a Spring breakfast at the home of Mrs. Roe Bennett of 1220 S. Congress St.

HELOISE'S HINTS

Arrowroot smooths out gravy

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR FOLKS: Hold on to your hats 'cause I'm going to tell you something that most people probably don't know. I've tested it for three years now. And consider it way up in the heavens like the Milky Way.

It's arrowroot!

Comes in cans and jars, looks like starch and can be found in grocery stores on the shelf by the cream of tartar. It's the most fantastic thing to use when making gravy (lumpless too!) that I ever tried.

I once knew the man who ran one of the most elite dining rooms in the U.S. One night I asked him to let me in on the secret of making that good, clear roast gravy that all elegant dining places whip up.

He said, "Buy some arrowroot. But use about one-fourth the amount you ordinarily would when using cornstarch or flour. Mix it with some water and pour it into your gravy."

Sure 'nuff, it makes gravy most delectable and doesn't give you that starchy flavor at all. And it's as clear as our windows should be . . .

The part I like the most — besides being clear — is that once it gets to its thickening point, it doesn't get any thicker! And the gravy may be reheated or kept warm without adding anymore liquid at all.

How about that? And an ocean of thanks to a kind man for revealing this hot recipe to us homemakers. Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a suggestion for storing baby's clothes.

The shelves in a plastic, zippered shoe bag work very well for little undershirts, nightgowns, etc.

If you take the bottom shelf out, you can stack diapers on the bottom of the bag. And if you take the top shelf out, you can hang little outfits inside at the top.

Since the bag hangs in the closet, it takes up much less space than a separate bureau just for baby. Linda Wheeland

DEAR HELOISE: Out of stationery, but plenty of envelopes? Then take your shears and pink the edge all the way around some of the leftover envelopes. And use the front of the envelope for note paper.

Nearly everyone has extra envelopes after the matching paper is gone. You can mix or match these pinked sheets and they are great for short notes. Dorothy Stortz

DEAR HELOISE: I have tried several of the ideas in your column, and my four children have put up with me so far. But when I decided to try the "chore distributing idea," my second to the youngest boy exploded:

"Why does that Heloise have to put all those ideas into your head?"

But that's all right . . . keep those hints coming.

I love them! Mrs. M. S. Huigdal

DEAR HELOISE: The legs on my plastic-covered dish rack were becoming a bit sticky, though not worn. I put three coats of natural nail polish on them and it did the trick.

I allowed each coat to dry very thoroughly before adding the next one. Bernice Cudhie

PTA topics hit Drugs, discipline

EAST LANSING — Drugs, discipline and sex education are among the topics for discussion at the 15th annual PTA Problem Clinic, which will attract about 500 parents and educators to Michigan State University tomorrow.

So are decision-makers in public education, the pros and cons of sensitivity training and barriers to understanding minority groups.

Morning clinic sessions will deal with changing patterns in family living, and meeting the emotional, health and special education needs of children.

Others will consider improving parent-school relationships, legislation affecting children and youth, working with pressure groups and programs that click.

The clinic at The Kellogg Center is sponsored by the MSU College of Education, in cooperation with the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

running the service stress the fact that they do not attempt to make judgments, give hard advice, or impose ready-made solutions that relieve the adolescent of his own responsibility.

The Hot Line director calls the technique one of "creative listening" based on "a warm and human regard for others and a special awareness of and sensitivity to the world of young people."

The idea is to make young people look at their problems in a way they hadn't before — encourage them to make a decision as to how they will approach the problem, or pick one alternative out of the several possible solutions that may have been discussed.

The plan started 10 months ago, and since then has received 5,000 calls. Ordinarily they concern boy-girl relationships and parental relationships.

The youngsters who phone in need some counseling but for one reason or another are reluctant to discuss the subjects with their parents or anybody else they know. The fact that Hot Line is entirely anonymous appeals to the youngsters.

It's possible that the program will not solve any significant portion of the world's woes, or even of those pertaining especially to teenagers. But for those willing to give it a try, it could help, for the chance to talk with somebody sympathetic is half the battle.

NEW YORK — There are nearly three times as many employed registered nurses who are married as compared to those who are single, reports the American Nurses' Association.

In 1966, married women constituted 63.5 per cent of the total; single nurses comprised 22.4 per cent.

The remainder were either widowed, divorced, separated, or their marital status was not reported.

"Emerald Isle Pie" is a tangy, creamy dessert with an Irish accent.

Creamy, tangy Dessert takes To Irish green

Everyone has some of the Irish spirit during March, when St. Patrick's Day lends its good green color to social events and home menus. Maybe you can't get this "Emerald Isle Pie" to set tonight to celebrate St. Patrick's Day, expect perhaps by midnight. But in coming days it might prove an enticing menu climax.

2 cups boiling water
Dash of salt
1 cup cold water
1 cup whipping cream
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. mint extract
1 tsp. brandy extract

Pre-birth Research Proceeds

Reports due
At conference

Special to The Press

Research projects to protect the health of mothers and babies will be explained at a conference of doctors slated next week in Flint.

A University of Michigan research professor will tell of fluid analysis in fetus management such as he and three doctors have done.

Another doctor will discuss new developments in use of gamma globulin with a very high content of Rh antibodies.

The conference on maternal and prenatal welfare will be on March 26 and 27.

Dr. Robert D. Visscher of Grand Rapids will talk on "Who Should Receive Rh Immune Globulin?" Since May, he and two other doctors have been working on the prevention of Rh isoimmunization with such globulin.

The troubles arrive when a mother has Rh negative blood and the father Rh positive blood. And usually it is in pregnancies after the first one, because the mother's blood may defend itself against the Rh positive blood of the baby by developing antibodies.

These antibodies may pass from mother to child, destroying the baby's red blood cells and causing miscarriage, still birth or early infant death unless the attending physician is aware of the conflicting types and can act to prevent the adverse affect, Dr. Visscher explains.

The immune globulin used by his team is the same gamma globulin used to prevent hepatitis and German measles in pregnant women.

But in this case, it has the Rh antibodies that fight the baby's blood.

Dr. Colin Campbell of Ann Arbor will discuss "Amniotic fluid analysis and intrauterine transfusion in the management of erythroblastosis fetalis."

of obstetrics-gynecology at the University of Michigan Medical School. He is one of a team of three doctors at U-M who have done one of the world's largest series of intruterine transfusions.

The team's experience constitutes ten per cent of the world's experience in such transfusions.

DEAR ABBY:

Hubby's Eskimo line get
The freeze from cool wife

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who says there is nothing wrong with being overly friendly with his sister-in-law? He says the Eskimos do this. Is this true or should I tell him that he is crazy? I answer all his needs every time he asks me. Thank you very much. Worried

DEAR WORRIED: Tell your husband that the Eskimos stopped that practice a long time ago, and that if you ever catch him so much as rubbing noses with another woman he'll get a freezing out like no Eskimo ever had.

DEAR ABBY: I am 25 years old and I'm engaged to a man I'll call "Frank" who is 28. We have known each other a long time, but we have been engaged only two months. Before the engagement we didn't discuss having a family, which was a mistake.

Now Frank tells me that he would like to have four or five children. Maybe I'm selfish, but I don't want any.

Abby, I have absolutely no patience with children, and knowing myself as I do, I wouldn't make a very good mother.

Frank and I love each other, but this has become a big issue. Please don't tell me that I should have one, because I will feel different about my own child. I really don't want the work and responsibility of children. Maybe I'm peculiar, but I don't think they're worth it. So what is your advice? Troubled.

DEAR TROUBLED: Tell Frank that unless he sees it your way, he'd better find another girl. I agree, you'd probably make a poor mother, but I admire your honesty.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Wants Marriage" that a common law marriage is as legal as one in which a minister has mumbled a few words over the couple. And a man is all wet if he thinks he can escape the responsibility of marriage by not going through a ceremony. He has a legal duty to support the woman, and any children they may have. And the children will be considered legitimate, too!

If a man wants to get rid of a common law wife, he must divorce her in the courts, as there is no such thing as a "common law divorce." And if a man tries to give a woman the old line about a "trial" period of living together, it won't work because when a man and woman present themselves to the world as man and wife — they ARE. At least that's the way it is in Texas. Lawyer's Wife.

DEAR WIFE: Thank you! And if your husband ever finds out who you are, you'll catch it for "practicing" law without a license.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Furious in Prescott, Ariz." who suggested that housewives do their marketing early in the day so as not to crowd the "working wives."

I have to wait until my husband comes home from work before I do my marketing because we are a one-car family. So if I get in your way, please provide me with a second car and I will be glad to do my marketing in the morning just to accommodate you. Clara.

DR. BROTHERS:

The divorcee may find
Single state difficult

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I was divorced from my husband a year ago. Our marriage had been going downhill for several years, but the final separation was a real blow to me. I started dating other men very soon but I'm not happy with myself. I seem to have very low resistance to any man who has intentions of getting me to go to bed with him. They all use the same line about me being a mature, healthy woman but the strange thing is that I don't really enjoy these episodes very much.—G.W.

Dear Mrs. W.: Even though the divorced individual may sincerely believe that the dissolution of his marriage was all for the best, that her single state is a welcome freedom, she may find the adjustment problems difficult and confusing.

The end of a relationship in which considerable hope, trust, and faith has been invested is seldom painless.

Boy killed
Flying kite

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Dennis Michael Pisciotto, 22, died an hour after he was found unconscious in the back yard of his parents' home where he had been flying a kite Sunday.

Police said the kite string, containing a metallic filament, touched a 12,000-volt power line.

As a newly married couple must learn to build a life together, the divorced individual is faced with the demanding task of extricating himself from his former life style while at the same time creating a satisfying and comfortable new living pattern. The ability to cope with these changes will depend on how damaging the divorce was to self-confidence and sense of personal worth.

Psychiatrist Joshua Golden observes that some individuals may fall into promiscuous behavior patterns upon the termination of a relationship. This "reactive promiscuity" seems to be motivated by the need of the individual to reestablish a positive self-image after the trauma of the failed relationship.

In the deteriorating stages of a relationship, the hostility may become intense enough to allow for the expression of previously unspoken criticisms of the sexual performance of either party. Such attacks on the sexual adequacy of the individual can leave deep scars that may affect future relationships.

The promiscuous individual is generally not seeking sex merely for pleasure and sensual satisfaction but as a means of demonstrating his or her intrinsic worth and desirability. Each new person of the opposite sex appears to be an opportunity to prove his or her value as a person.

Psychiatrist Stanley Willis also suggests that promiscuous patterns of behavior may serve as a form of defense against more intimate but demanding relationships. Because of past frustrations or disappointments, the individual may feel threatened by any relationship that reminds him or her of former unhappy experience.

One survey of divorced persons found that 20 per cent of the men and 40 per cent of the women sought help for the emotional problems stemming from their divorce, using the services of various professional counselors.

Another 12 per cent of the men and 20 per cent of the women did not seek help but felt that they could have used it.

Don't be embarrassed or too proud to admit that you need emotional support and guidance.

"How to Measure Your Self-Confidence" is a leaflet by Dr. Brothers. For a copy, send a dime and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Joyce Brothers at The Press.

Your Health

By DR. LESTER COLEMAN

I have looked forward to retirement for a long time and now that it has happened, I am miserable. All the things I had planned to do fail to fill my time adequately. At the age of 65, I am lost and wandering aimlessly in the less-than-blissful world of the retired. What more can I do to make my day full? Mr. C. E. I, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. I.: You have found that the art of leisure is a difficult one. Many people like yourself are suddenly dislocated from their jobs after many years of activity and are told to find a hobby. A hobby is no replacement for the loneliness of being separated from colleagues with whom one has worked for many years.

Leisure can be hard work when it hangs heavy. Time can become a burden rather than a joy. In many instances, active people who hardly recall a day of illness find that aches and pains suddenly become the real nucleus of their lives. Psychological illness can be responsible for these mirror complaints when there is nothing else on which to concentrate.

There are now many clubs and organizations devoted to informal day programs. Here, all kinds of activities are custom-made to fit the needs and interests of the members. Social service, hospital and Red Cross volunteer work are unselfish and bring great joy to people who have the extra time to donate. You will find that the hours you give in making others in hospitals happy will increase the joys of your remaining time. For younger readers, I must advise that early planning for eventual retirement can make that period a happy one rather than a burden.

Speaking of your health: It is easy to break the chronic laxative habit.

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of The Press.

Buddhist monk sentenced

SAIGON (AP) — A militant Buddhist leader already sentenced to 10 years at hard labor was convicted today of harboring and assisting deserters and draft dodgers. He was given a second sentence of five years in solitary confinement, to run concurrently with the other.

The monk, Thich Thien Minh, did not attend today's trial, saying he was "too tired" and would accept whatever verdict the court handed down.

His first sentence, for harboring conspirators and illegal possession of weapons, explosives and Communist documents, was imposed Saturday. He had denied all the charges.

The first trial brought a heated protest from the An Quang Buddhist sect, which called the verdict "unjust and inhuman."

Thich Tri Quang, once the most powerful Buddhist leader in South Vietnam, emerged Sunday from two years of seclusion in a pagoda and accused the United States of helping President Nguyen Van Thieu repress Buddhists.

Tri Quang led the Buddhist movement which played a big part in the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime in 1963. Anti-Americanism has been a basic element of his political activity for years, although the U.S. Embassy gave him asylum after Diem's troops started invading pagodas in the summer of 1963.

Tri Quang and other Buddhist leaders published a resolution saying the government of Thieu, a Roman Catholic, is "using the support of foreigners to continue the program of Mr. Diem to destroy Buddhism with different and barbarous forms." Diem also was a Catholic.

Life & Leisure: A guide for dedicated fun-lovers

What's at the movies tonight

THE HEART IS A LONELY HUNTER: Carson McCuller's story of a deaf-mute too sensitive for the vulgar tragedies of this world, too compassionate for the people who inhabit it. A fragile film kept this side of sentimentality by Alan Arkin's flawless handling of the title role. — Campus

HELL IN THE PACIFIC: Lee Marvin and Toshio Mifune star as an American marine and a Japanese officer marooned on the same desert island to fight a microcosmic version of WWII. The producers have admirably resisted fairstyle transformations, but they have also foregone any other significant character development. Two fine actors are frozen in a tableau of visual antagonism — a good still, but hardly a full-length motion picture. — Quo Vadis Penthouse II

COOL HAND LUKE: Paul Newman turns in a moving performance as a man who refuses to be broken by the incredible inhumanities of a Southern prison camp. Studied with gallows humor, the film is almost unbearably harsh, but it is a harshness justified by a story that ought to be told. — Wayne Drive-In UPTIGHT: Jules Dassin translates the Irish classic "The Informer" into the black and white of today's explosive racial situation to tell the story of a Negro caught between the inequalities of white society and his inability to take a militant stance against them. Powerful and provocative in spots, the film suffers from an excess of Procrustean logic and a corresponding lack of real understanding. — Ypsi-Ann Drive-In

GONE WITH THE WIND: Clark Gable and Vivian Leigh in a love story as timeless as the film itself. If it's possible that anyone hasn't yet seen it, by all means do. Quo Vadis, Penthouse I

THE DETECTIVE: Frank Sinatra stars in this graphic representation of the criminal subculture of the city. The story itself is unremarkable, dealing far too superficially with many of the critical issues it touches upon. What is exceptional is that the movie attempts to break with the age-old stereotypes of honor-bright policemen and rotten-to-the-core criminals. If only for its effort at honesty, the film is worth consideration. — Algier's Drive-In, State-Wayne

WAIT UNTIL DARK: Audrey Hepburn stars as a blind girl involved in a lethal game of blindman's buff with several desperate criminals. Generally routine chillerama, saved at the end by one of the most genuinely horrifying moments on screen. — Algier's Drive-In

COOGAN'S BLUFF: A would-be powerful contrast between parochial and enlightened views of the law is sadly obscured in a film which relies on needless violence to bring home its message. Lee J. Cobb turns in a good performance as the "city" cop, but Clint Eastwood plays his country counterpart with characteristic flatness. On a bill with "House of Cards." — State

ROMEO AND JULIET: Director Franco Zeffirelli's contemporary retelling casts two real teen-agers in the roles of the adolescent lovers. The dramatic poetry of Shakespeare's lines is somewhat obscured, but the freshness and immediacy of this down-key version more than compensate for the loss. In Zeffirelli's hands, the play becomes one of character, and the transformation is as exciting emotionally as it is intellectually. — Fox Village

SWISS FAMILY ROBINSON: One of Walt Disney's most spectacular adventure stories, the film recreates the classic about a family stranded on a deserted island and forced to make their home there. Technically and artistically up to the standards. — Wayside

BULLITT: Director Peter Yates has taken two movie clichés—the grimly honest cop in a corrupt world and one-dimensional "star" Steve McQueen — and made them both work. Artistically and technically superior; a cinema triumph. — Willow and Algier's Drive-ins, State-Wayne

RACHEL, RACHEL: A chronicle of human failure, of the perpetual spinster who turns everything she touches to sterility and defeat. Paul Newman's first attempt at direction may well establish him as an artist in a second field, while Joanne Woodward's performance proves, once again, her virtuosity as a character actress. — Campus Milan

REFLECTIONS IN A GOLDEN EYE: Twisted love story serving adequately as a vehicle for Marlon Brando and Elizabeth Taylor. Somewhat less than the sum of its stars. — Willow Drive-In

CHARLY: Sensitive story of a mentally-retarded man given a second chance by a miraculous brain operation, and eventually plunged back into darkness when the new advance proves temporary. An easy candidate for embarrassing pathos, the film is saved by dedicated low-key direction and Cliff Robertson's almost loving portrayal of the ill-fated hero. (G) — La Parisen, Michigan

BARBARELLA: Jane Fonda plays a futuristic space traveler in a film with as little substance as its star's scanty wardrobe. — Ypsi-Ann Drive-In

THE NIGHT THEY RAIDED MINSKY'S: A nostalgic tribute to the early days of burlesque, no less engaging for the fact that it shows the seamy, as well as the glittery, side of the theater of the 20s. Combining documentary film clips, a solid slapstick plot and an excellent score, "Minsky's" may well be the musical success of the year. — Martha Washington

THREE IN THE ATTIC: Light-hearted spoof on feminine tactics in the perpetual battle of the sexes. Yvette Mimieux stars as one of three sullied ladies who avenge themselves on their shared lover by imprisoning him in their dormitory and impressing him into stud service. Not for children or mothers about to send a daughter to college. — State

BONNIE AND CLYDE: Blamed as a factor in the increasing trend towards violence in the cinema, the film actually is to be applauded for tempering a potentially sensational theme with sound psychological and dramatic conflict. If the film is brutal, it is only because killers are. — Wayne Drive-In 2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY: Spectacular cinema effects have made Stanley Kubrick's futuristic epic one of the most well-deserved hits of the season. The relative absence of dialogue and narrative only increases the visual magnificence of a film which challenges all the unique possibilities of the film media. — Quo Vadis

GREETINGS: Anti-establishment satire loosely wound on the theme of three youths passing time until they receive the inevitable "greetings" from their friendly draft board. Ranging from blackest comedy to sheer hilarity, the film is no less meaningful for the fact that it is also superbly entertaining. — Fifth Forum

KING KONG ESCAPES. The hirsute hero returns as the pawn in a mad scientist's scheme to take over the world. Singularly lacking in the bloody violence which made the original so great, the film's high spot is a battle between the King and an electronic look-alike atop the United Nations. High camp. — Milan

Our best to you . . .

THREE YOUNG AMERICANS IN SEARCH OF SURVIVAL: Paul Newman narrates this two-hour special about three members of the younger generation wholly committed to the idea that people must Smith's fight to put undeveloped land to maximum survive. The ideal finds different expression in Gary use without destroying the natural beauty, in Mary Margaret Goodwin's efforts to put a halt to water pollution, and in Harold Haskin's transformation of a ghetto gang into amateur film-makers. The hope is the same, however: That this country will someday fulfill its promise of happiness for all its people. 9 p.m.; in color on Channel 7.

Podunk's Sale pains Originator

SYLMAR, Calif. (AP) — The nostalgia felt by Hal Morris for his old town, Podunk Center, Iowa, is deepened by word that it's up for sale for $7,000.

"I guess fame can sure raise the value of a town," said Morris, recalling it started for $1,500 and sold it three years later for $1,800.

Morris, 64, was 29 when he quit his job with a Des Moines meat packing plant and bought an acre of land in 1934 without telling his wife. He built a general store, put in gas pumps and called it Podunk.

Why Podunk? "It was the best name I could think of at the time," Morris said Sunday. "Names like Toonerville and Feltonville just didn't fit it."

The business along U.S. 69 was great, he recalls. "One day a salesman drove up and said he would trade me two boxes, the contents of which I wouldn't know until after the trade, in return for $5 worth of groceries."

Because of his wife's poor health, Morris said, he sold his town and moved to California.

The settlement now called Podunk Center is called "the hub of the world" by the present owner, Homer Weeks, but its greatest population—21—was in the '30s. Podunk now boasts a four-unit motel as well as the store-cafe.

But buy it back? No, says Hal Morris wistfully. It costs too much.

MAYBE EVEN BETTER

THAN BEING THERE is sending a visible, audible, edible or huggable telegram message. Things have come a long way from the 10-word or under wire that usually meant trouble. Western Union now offers such exciting communications as the Candygram, a two-pound box of chocolates suitable for everything from a birth — "Huzzah! Huzzah! You're Ma and Pa! Eat up..." — to a lover's complaint — "Can you doubt that I'm devoted? Here's my love, all chocolate-coated." Gone are the days when a delivery boy would sing a birthday greeting, but you can still send a melodygram which will croon your message on any standard record player. The disks have the advantage of longevity, as well as greater variety than your average mail carrier, and the traditional "Happy Birthday" has been supplemented by such as "Hello Dolly" for an everyday greeting, several of love tunes and "I Want to Communicate With You," a selection billed as "general rock and roll." Other choices include the Dollygram, a plush doll bearing a suitable salutation and, special for Easter, a Bunnygram which carries a holiday message signed by Peter Rabbit. All grams can be ordered by phone and all bills are neatly appended to your monthly total. A great outlet for the truly thoughtful... and a lifesaver for the majority who communicate mainly by after-thought.

Lucy sulks while her driving instructor, Jack Gilford, tries to 'jolly up' the law in tonight's episode of "Here's Lucy," 8:30 on channel 2.

Books

THE INLAND ISLAND by Josephine W. Johnson. (Simon & Schuster; $5). In a sensitive and highly personalized nature journal, the authoress has minutely noted the seasonal changes in plant and animal life on a 37-acre retreat near Cincinnati. It is a beautifully written book which evokes the sights and sounds, the very rhythm of the natural process even to the vagaries of the weather and the peculiar feel of the outdoors. The peace of the novel, however, is disturbed — even as nature itself is not unmarred — by the destructiveness of human society. Miss Johnson undercuts her narrative with reflections on increased and uncontrolled technology, the man-made pollution which has infected two of her streams, and a war which cannot allow people to live in serene contemplation of natural beauty. Hers is the complaint of the modern consciousness — in direct line from the early Romantics to an Emerson or Lawrence — challenging the right of so-called civilization to uproot man from his place in the natural order. It is a gentle, feminine complaint — but perhaps, that is why it is so moving.

Two Dollies provide merry show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) It was a happy idea to bring together Broadway's two Dollies—Carol Channing and Pearl Bailey—for a merry, two-woman show.

The ABC special Sunday night was a glittering, tuneful combination of comedy and song. Miss Channing and Miss Bailey, whose styles are very different, complimented each other nicely.

Carol Channing was at her amusing best in an impression of Marlene Dietrich. Pearl Bailey shone in a solo singing spot studied with her characteristic, drawing interpolations. The least effective numbers were a group of songs first sung by men in assorted Broadway shows. They wound up, of course, in a duet of—"Hello, Dolly,"—from the musical that they both have played for so long.

NBC used a late prime-time hour to broadcast a news department special showing the worker who is a product of the spread of Russian influence in the Mediterranean and the countries that line its coast.

It was a clam-voiced, thoughtful summary that hammered home the increasing importance of Soviet, and American ships and influence in the area, with the possibility of it leading to a major confrontation.

An ABC news program tonight will concentrate on three young people who are tackling some tough problems of our times and are actually making some headway.

The special, "Three Young Americans: In Search of Survival," focuses on a Philadelphia social worker, a conversationist working to preserve our wilderness areas and a marine conservationist working on water pollution problems.

Harold Haskins, the social worker who is a product of the Philadelphia slum area himself, was able to move one of the city's toughest gangs off the street and into a studio. He turned them into amateur film makers.

The project was so successful, it expanded into other business areas.

Naturalists' club Has internal struggle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Sierra Club is embroiled in an internal power struggle that could affect the future of America's conservation movement.

Strong-willed individualists, many of them veteran mountaineers and backpackers, are battling for control of the 72,000-member organization.

The center of conflict is David Brower, 56, the executive director of the club, founded in 1892 by naturalist John Muir.

Brower's critics accuse him of arrogance and a driving thirst for personal control of the club, considered by many as the nation's most militant and potent force fighting for preservation of wilderness and scenic wonders.

The club, which has long fought to set up more national parks, was the driving force behind establishment of this past year of Redwoods National Park in California and Cascades National Park in Washington.

The club won a battle to prevent damming of the Colorado River that would have flooded portions of the Grand Canyon.

Dinah Shore's Daughter marries

LAUGH IT OFF

Judge admits queries go unanswered

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The judge who received James Earl Ray's guilty plea says a number of questions about the Martin Luther King assassination were left outstanding. But he doubts that a trial by jury would have cleared the air.

These views were expressed in an interview Sunday by Judge W. Preston Battle of Criminal Court, who last week sentenced Ray to 99 years in prison.

Meanwhile Ray's lawyer, Percy Foreman of Houston, Tex., reiterated in a television interview his belief that "no other person, organization or group except James Earl Ray was concerned in the killing."

Judge Battle remarked in his interview, "There has been much talk of a conspiracy, but no one saying so has yet produced a single shred of evidence or named an associate or conspirator."

The judge said he is himself puzzled by a number of questions:

"I would truly like to know how Ray actually found the spot from which to fire. How did Ray know where Rev.

King would be? How did he determine the type of weapon to be used? What are the details of the actual purchase and selection of the weapon? Was he alone in surveillance of the Lorraine Motel?

"Most puzzling of all is his escape from Memphis. To me, it seems miraculous that he was able to flee to Atlanta despite the all-points bulletins without his white Mustang being spotted on a highway."

King, standing on a balcony of the motel, was shot last April 4 by a rifleman firing from across the street.

And No. 10

So the real gasp and the thing that made Coach Gary Davis bashful and red-faced was the wire service blunder that turned out to be incredibly accurate:

It was back at the start of the season when things weren't clicking for St. John's. By some quirk of fate, things weren't clicking well for the Associated Press at the time, either, and as a result, the two came together for a real good funny. The Crusaders, with a won-lost record of 1-4, were ranked a highly-unlikely No. 10 in the Class D poll.

Although no big issue was made of the ranking, enough people saw it that Davis wound up whispering pleas of "keep it quiet, please."

The error in awarding poll points was quickly corrected and most people probably forgot about the whole business as St. John's continued on its losing way, until its record was 3-11.

What happened to change the complexion of the Crusaders' fate is a good question — Davis has said that the whole matter rests in the fact that the team was never as bad as 3-11 — but it resulted in a surge that saw them win seven straight games prior to Saturday evening's defeat.

There are those who would thus call St. John's, until Saturday, of course, the Cinderella team of the tournament. They would have the Crusaders outfitted with glass slippers.

Which is all right, except that a glass slipper would never carry a team to the heights St. John's attained, winning its first district title and then thumping No. 2 ranked Detroit All Saints, the defending Class C state champion.

No, better a pair of clodhoppers or work shoes. And perhaps a little more thought about that ill-timed No. 10 ranking.

Rumor has it that the Atlanta Hawks of the National Basketball Association are interested in drafting the services of former Eastern Michigan University basketball star Tug Bowens.

Mike Bass, the former three-sport stalwart at Ypsilanti High and then defensive halfback at the University of Michigan, has obtained his release from the Detroit Lions and signed a contract with the Washington Redskins.

Harness racing gets its earliest start in state history when Wolverine Raceway opens tonight. The kickoff program will be part of a 61-night meet at the Detroit Race Course site.

John Tigner wound up his sophomore year as Washtenaw Community College's top scorer in basketball, according to statistics released this week by Coach Larry Slepisky.

Tigner, the guard-forward from Willow Run, scored at a 24.5 points per game clip during the Warriors' second season of varsity competition. He far outdistanced the second-high point maker, Percy Wright, who hit at a 14.1 per game pace.

Slepisky expressed pleasure with the team's performance from the free throw line, as four starters hit 70 per cent or better. Top among that group was freshman guard Greg Berklich, the former St. John's hotshot, who hit with 75 per cent accuracy. (51 of 68).

Washtenaw Community College finished the season with a 12-12 record.

Boys aged 13 to 15 and interested in participating in the Ypsilanti Babe Ruth baseball program should circle March 29 on their calendars. That's the date for registering at the Recreation Department Office, 214 N. Huron St., from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Tryouts will be held April 19-26, beginning at 1 p.m. each day. Registrants will be assigned a day to report.

Braves grab regional title

Joe Frye saves streak

By BARRY LEVINE

Press Sports Writer

Bowen Field House had never seen a finish like it before. In fact, there are probably few basketball courts in the world which have hosted anything like Saturday night's game between Ypsilanti High and Ann Arbor Huron.

In an amazing display of sheer determination and courage, the Braves' Joe Frye went to the free throw line after the floor was cleared of Ann Arbor Huron players and fans whose spirits had exploded when they thought they had defeated the mighty cagers from Ypsilanti High following a basket by Dave Strack.

Not many of the 4700-plus fans had been paying close enough attention to notice that Frye had been fouled as he fired a layup with only one second remaining in regulation time.

When order was finally restored, the Ypsilanti High senior stepped to the floor, and, in what his coach, Dick Ouellette, described as the "greatest performance of free throw shooting I've ever seen," sank first one; then the other toss and again the crowd went wild — but this time it was the other side of the court.

The only possible way for any more pressure to be on a basketball player would be the exact same situation occurring but in a game closer to the actual championship. It would be impossible for the Braves to be any closer to defeat without actually losing.

In the three minute overtime period the Braves showed why they have been rated the No. 1 team in the state as they stayed cool and poured through seven points to earn a 57-54 victory, their 20th straight this season and third over the Hurons.

The game was played on even grounds most of the way with the Braves edging to a 12-11 lead in the first quarter. After fighting to a 25-10 lead, they left the court at halftime with only a 26-25 advantage.

The third period appeared to be completely different as Ypsilanti High came out and stormed to a 38-25 lead before Jamison got Ann Arbor's first points with a bucket after almost five minutes of play. Then Huron scored five straight points in the last minute and one-half of the quarter, but the Braves still had a comfortable eight-point margin, 42-34, going into the fourth quarter.

Then the roof fell in on the Braves. Pete Jamison scored seven of his 27 points, including the basket with five seconds remaining to set the stage for Frye's heroics.

At that point, with the Ann Arbor fans screaming "We're No. 1," Ypsilanti High called time out. Sophomore Steve Rhodin, who led the Braves with a season high of 17 points, threw the ball in bounds. With the Hurons playing back defensively his backcourt companion Sid Frye was able to let the ball bounce until it reached almost mid-court before touching it and consequently starting the clock.

He quickly passed to his older brother at the top of the circle from where Joe drove to the basket.

In the overtime Steve Rhodin hit for four points, but it was the win, and not the points, which made him say he felt "real good" in the locker room after taking more of a beating than many football players do during a game.

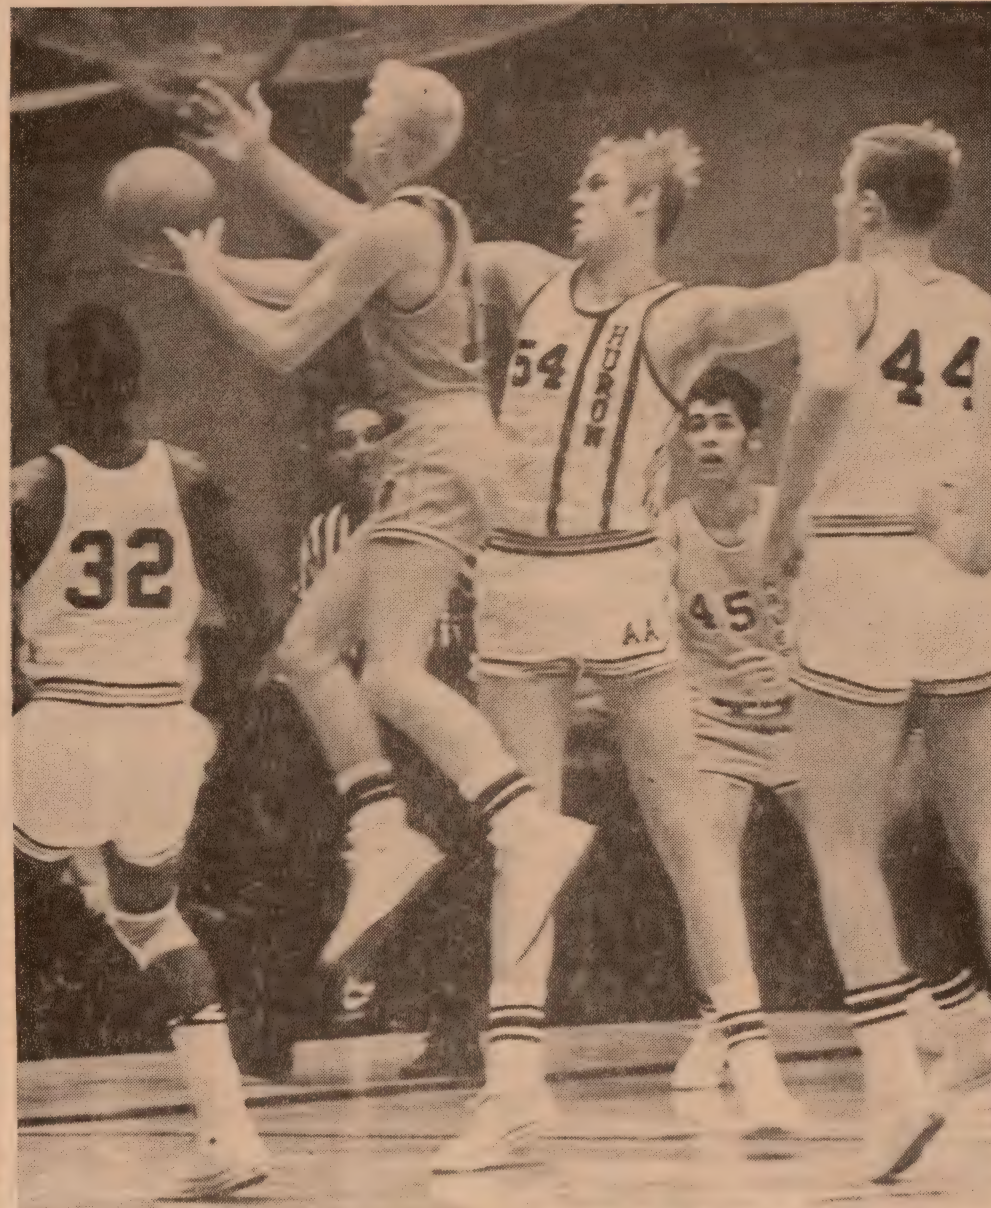

And many of his teammates had felt like they were in a football game during the contest, but every one of them felt the same way — "real good" — nad with good cause.

In a Class B quarterfinal, River Rouge tackles Holt Wednesday night at 7:30 at Bowen Field House.

Rough Riders Break mark; Finish 3rd

ANN ARBOR — Holland West Ottawa used its balanced team strength to capture the Class B swimming title, but the cheers of the crowd were for Class D giant killer Ypsilanti Roosevelt as the Rough Rider tankers took third place in a strong field.

West Ottawa racked up 174 points to unseat defending champion Riverview Community which finished second with 143 points. Roosevelt's 85 points were good for third place, 21 points better than the fourth place team.

Roosevelt's 400-yard freestyle relay team broke the state record for the second day in a row, smashing the record they had set just the day before in the preliminaries.

The team of Bob Langen, Dick Van Aernum, Wayne Blikken and Bill Rowan was clocked at 3:33.15 to erase their own mark of 3:33.80.

Rowan also placed third in the 200-yard individual medley. Other Rough Rider swimmers placed high in the consolation finals to help the team to its third place finish.

Willow Run's lone entry of Cecil Adams placed 11th in the consolation finals of the butterfly.

At East Lansing, the area's only representative in the finals of the Class A swimming meet, Phil Barr of Belleville had a 10th place finish in the 50-yard freestyle.

Crusaders ousted by Webberville

St. John's loses, 73-65

By BARRY LEVINE

Press Sports Writer

Almost as quickly as it reached the top of the basketball world Friday night, everything collapsed from underneath and Saturday night the cage scene held nothing but memories for St. John's.

After knocking off Detroit All Saints, the highest rated Class D team in the tournament, the Crusaders started slowly and could never make up the deficit they encountered in the first half against Webberville.

The Spartans held on to defeat St. John's, 73-65, to gain the regional championship and advance to the quarterfinal round.

In that first half nothing seemed to go right for the Crusaders. They started out with a basket. Mike Lewis to begin the game and then went ahead 4-3, but that was the last time it was close until the final minute of play.

Webberville, playing a disciplined, determined offense, became extremely hot from the floor, racing to a 21-12 lead. In the opening quarter. At one point during the second quarter the Spartans had attempted 17 shots and made 14 — over 80 per cent!

While all this was happening, St. John's was having one of its worst shooting performances of the season, hitting only eight of 32 tries.

Coming back from halftime facing a 38-21 spread, many teams would have chosen to just run out the clock and get the bad game over with — not so with the Crusaders.

They continued to fight, although still having trouble getting started. Then, as if believing that they actually could make up the 17-point difference, they exploded in the fourth period.

Again it was Jim Dupuis, the free throw shooter extraordinaire, who put the charge back into St. John's. He hit for 12 points and helped put on the pressure during the Crusaders' full court press.

At one point, with only 26 seconds remaining, the lead was out to 69-63 after the Crusaders had scored 10 straight points and had brought the screaming crowd to its feet looking for a possible miracle — but that was too much to ask for.

Regardless of the big victory over All Saints, this had to be a big disappointment for the Crusaders, who were playing in their first regional basketball tourney ever and were working on a seven game winning streak.

But now it is all over. All that will remain are the memories of one of the biggest moments the school ever had, and those of what might have been.

For someone from the outside to look back at a team with a 10-12 record it will be hard to understand how that club was considered good — without knowing the determination and desire of that same team, which at one time was 3-11.

Kansas sweeps NCAA meet

From 'outdoor' track powerhouses

By DAVE HERBST
Press Sports Editor

DETROIT — To the novice observer, one of the surprising things about the NCAA indoor track championships held here Friday and Saturday had to be the less than spectacular performances of some of the southwestern powerhouses.

Topping that group was San Jose State, a distant third in the meet with 19½ points to Kansas' 41½. Southern California tallied 16 points, and then it was a long drop to Texas-El Paso with five points.

Actually, there's a common-sense explanation for the relatively strong performances of some of the midwestern and eastern schools — there's a great deal of difference between indoor and outdoor track. And it is in the northern sectors of the country that inclement weather makes indoor track a popular diversion during the winter months.

The differences aren't only in the events that are contested, but in the manner similar events are run. The track, of course, is much smaller than the quarter-mile outdoor tracks, making for more turns and sharper, banked turns. The Cobo Arena oval is one-eleventh of a mile.

The construction material is different — here the oval is Sitka spruce, whereas outdoor tracks may be of a variety of substances, from cinders to synthetics. That makes it necessary for runners to abandon spiked track shoes for the indoor championships.

Some of the outdoor events that are ignored are the 100 and 200 yard dashes, the javeline, discus, hammer, low hurdles and 120-yard high hurdles. Added to the repertoire to compensate for the absence of some of the shorter running events are the 60-yard dash and the 60-yard hurdles.

Recapping a few of the highlights of Saturday's competition: One NCAA indoor record was broken and two others were tied during the action that saw 10 titles decided. Ron Jourdan of Florida high jumped 7¾" to eclipse the record of seven feet even.

Erv Hall of Villanova got things off to a fast start by tying the 60-yard high hurdles record of seven seconds flat, and San Jose State's John Carlos, after struggling through the semifinals, came on to tie the record of six seconds flat in the 60-yard dash.

Michigan State's Bill Wehrwein, a product of Roseville, was one of the most impressive performers in the field. He captured the 600-yard run title in 1:09.8 just five-tenths of a second off the world record for an 11-lap track.

The Spartan junior showed off the durable style that leaves the spectator with the impression he (Wehrwein) might be able to go on for another 600 yards. He ran third during most of the race, then moved down his competition during the final lap-and-a-quarter.

"I felt strong after passing (Audry) Hardy (of Tennessee) and knew no one would catch me . . . I was only worried about catching up to him," Wehrwein said.

Meanwhile, Kansas' Jim Ryun retained the mile run crown when he outleaped Villanova ace Marty Liquori at the finish. Both were timed in 4:02.6.

Ryun led for the first quarter, then fell back as Liquori set the pace into the final lap. As the pair entered the final turn, they were even. Ryun stayed on the outside, but remained even with Liquori through the turn, setting up the near-dead heat.

More distribution slated for coho

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's coho salmon should be more widely distributed next year and hopefully the fishermen will be too, says fish expert David Borgeson of the Department of Natural Resources.

The department closed three streams to fishermen this year because shoulder-to-shoulder anglers trespassed on private property, trampled stream banks and interfered with the fish habitat.

Borgeson said the big salmon should be found in more streams next year. He added half a million were planted this year in Lake Huron while 1.1 million were turned loose in Lake Michigan.

Rain forces postponement

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Heavy rain Sunday forced postponement of the final round of the Orange Blossom Open and members of the Ladies Professional Golf Association will try today to finish the 54-hole tournament. Marlene Bauer Hagge led after 36 holes with 70-72-142 and held a two-stroke edge over Pam Barnett and Kathy Whitworth.

Wings' line breaks mark; Detroit still loses, 6-4

By the Associated Press
The Detroit Red Wings' modern Production Line produced in record fashion, but a devastating third period — with New York getting four goals — has dealt a blow to Detroit's hopes of making the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

The Red Wings took a 4-2 lead after two periods in the game at New York, but the Rangers came firing back to take a 6-4 National Hockey League victory Sunday night.

The Rangers win gave them 82 points and a firm grip on third place in the NHL's East Division.

In the battle for fourth place — the last playoff spot — Toronto suffered a humiliating 11-3 loss from Boston Sunday, but still kept its position with 78. Detroit, with six games left in the season, is fifth with 76 points.

In other games, Oakland whacked Pittsburgh 7-2, Bobby Hull scored his 52nd and 53rd goals of the season in Chicago's 6-2 romp over Philadelphia and Minnesota edged St. Louis 3-2.

In Saturday's action, Montreal dropped Chicago 3-1, Toronto bombed Boston 7-4, St. Louis nipped Detroit 3-2, Los Angeles dropped Pittsburgh 3-1 and Philadelphia and Minnesota played to a 2-2 tie.

The Rangers were down some sensational goaltending by Detroit's Roy Edwards with a 25-shot third-period barrage that produced the four goals and victory.

Frank Mahovlich scored his 43th and 44th goals of the season for Detroit and assisted on Gordie Howe's 40th and Alex Delvecchio's 23rd as the Red Wings' modern version of the Production Line ran its total points for the season to a record 230.

It broke the mark of 226 established by Howe, Delvecchio and Ted Lindsay in 1955-56.

But the Rangers inundated Edwards with 57 shots and two goals by Ron Stewart sparked a third-period rally that gave New York the victory. Jean Ratelle also scored twice for New York.

Seven different players shared in Oakland's biggest offensive show of the season as the Seals opened a nine-point lead over Los Angeles and virtually clinched second place in the West Division.

Rookie Norm Ferguson netted his 30th, matching the mark for rookies set in 1951 by Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion and broken earlier this season by Minnesota's Danny Grant.

Hull moved within one goal of his own single season record of 54 by scoring twice against the Flyers. Pit Martin also had a pair of goals for the Black Hawks, who are buried in the East Division basement.

It was a key defeat for Philadelphia, locked in a three-way struggle with Los Angeles and Minnesota in the West. The Flyers, in fourth place, have 52 points, one less than Los Angeles and two more than Minnesota which stood off a third-period rally to beat West champ St. Louis.

Jean Paul Parise and Walt McKechnie scored the third-period goals that carried the North Stars to their victory over the Blues.

Late shots Advance two NCAA clubs

By the Associated Press

This is showdown week in major college basketball.

By dusk Saturday night, two teams will have plucked the prize plums for 1969 in action at Louisville, Ky., and New York City.

Defending champion UCLA, with the great Lew Alcindor, Drake, Purdue and North Carolina go for the big prize at Louisville. In Thursday night's NCAA semifinals, Drake collides with UCLA and North Carolina, battles Purdue.

Eight teams remain in the National Invitation Tournament in New York, including St. Peter's of New Jersey, Temple, Ohio University, Tennessee, South Carolina, Army, Louisville and Boston College.

St. Peter's meets Temple and Ohio University takes on Tennessee tonight in the first of the NIT's quarter-final fireworks.

Finals in both tournaments are scheduled Saturday afternoon.

Drake got its golden opportunity to try its luck against UCLA last Saturday when the Bulldogs tripped Colorado

State University 84-77 in the Midwest Regional finals at Manhattan, Kan. UCLA, with Alcindor contributing 17 points, breezed past Santa Clara 90-52 in the Western Regionals at Los Angeles.

North Carolina and Purdue survived the Regionals in identical fashion—on 20-foot jump shots in the final seconds that brought defeat for their respective opponents.

The Tar Heels edged Davidson 87-85 on Charlie Scott's 20-footer at College Park, Md., in the Eastern Regionals. Purdue's Boilermakers nipped Marquette 75-73 on a similar field goal by All-American Rick Mount at Madison, Wis., in overtime in the Midwest Regionals.

Louisville remained in the NIT Sunday by wearing down Fordham 73-70, and Boston College advanced with a 78-62 triumph over Kansas. In last Saturday's first-round activity, South Carolina rolled over Southern Illinois 72-63 and Army disposed of Wyoming 51-49.

Drake will face giant-killer UCLA with a 12-game victory streak in the record books. Willie McCarter, who chipped in with 21 points in the conquest of CSU, doesn't hesitate to say he thinks the Bulldogs can beat the proud Bruins.

"That's the one we want, UCLA," McCarter said after the Bulldogs found out the Bruins were their next foe. "That's who we want to play."

Drake Coach Maury John said his team won't hold the ball in an effort to beat UCLA. "I doubt if our plan will call for a drastic departure from our regular game," John said. "The thing we've got to hope for is a good shooting night."

UCLA is seeking its third straight national title, unprecedented in college basketball, and the Bruins would like nothing better than to snare it as the climax to Alcindor's illustrious career.

Johnny Wooden, the UCLA coach, sounded this warning: "I think we're sharp again and ready mentally."

One second remained when Scott canned his winning jump shot for North Carolina after the Tar Heels had clung to the ball for more than the final 60 seconds. Scott's shot gave him 32 points for the see-saw struggle, 23 in the second half.

Mount regarded his 20-footer in Purdue's victory over Marquette as "the biggest shot I've ever made." He collected 26 points. The regulation game had ended 63-63. Marquette once trailed by 11 points.

Saturday night's four regional consolation games saw Kentucky squeeze by Miami, Ohio, 72-71; Duquesne down St. John's, N.Y., 75-72; Colorado thrash Texas A&M 97-82, and Weber State Edge New Mexico State 58-56.

Greyhounds win NAIA championship

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Eastern New Mexico, a team which lost seven games during the regular season, blazed away with 67 per cent field goal shooting to capture the 32nd NAIA basketball tournament championship over Maryland State Saturday night.

The Greyhounds, who wound up with a 24-7 season record, including five tourney victories, gunned down the ailing Hawks 99-76 in the title game by drilling 39 of 58 shots.

Maryland State led by 10 points midway through the first half. But Eastern New Mexico recovered to take a 45-32 halftime lead, then turned it into a rout by hitting 15 of its first 17 shots in the second half.

"We were pretty fortunate out there for a while," said Greyhound Coach Harry Miller. "But the kids had patience. That's all there was to it."

Leading the Hounds contest was Dale Severson, who sank 10 of 12 shots and scored 25 points.

Tigers lose second In a row, to Yanks

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers lost their second straight exhibition baseball game 3-3, Sunday, but unflustered manager May Smith was encouraged by the performance of big righthander Earl Wilson.

Wilson, hampered by injuries much of last season when he pitched in 34 games and finished with a 13-12 record, hurled four shutout innings against the New York Yankees before they jumped on reliever John Hiller for five runs in the sixth. "The best part was the way he threw the curve," said Smith in praise of Wilson. "It was right where he wanted it, not like the last time when he was coming in high. It looks like Earl is coming along just fine."

On Wednesday against the New York Mets, Wilson didn't look so good as the Mets got four runs off of him in three innings.

But the Yanks managed only two hits off him Sunday to prevent Smith from having a totally discouraging day.

Detroit scored an early run on a Mickey Stanley single, an error by Tom Tresh at shortstop and a double play grounder by Willie Horton. A double by Joe Pepitone, a fielders choice, a walk, and singles by Billy Cohan and Frank Fernandez brought in New York's five runs off Hiller.

The Tigers appeared to be making a 1968-type rally by scoring two runs in the ninth on an error, Tom Matchick's single, a walk to Dave Campbell, a single by Ike Brown and a ground out by Gates Brown. But the rally fell short and Detroit's Grapefruit League record fell to 5-5.

Smith isn't one for alibis but after the game he complained about the weather, which the weather bureau has called one of Florida's chilliest since World War II.

"Things will get better as soon as the weather warms up," he sighed.

"All these errors we're making, and not hitting and all, would clear up if only we could get a few days of nice, warm sunshine."

Davidson's Driesell To coach Maryland

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Lefty Driesell, who brought basketball out of the doldrums at Davidson, said Sunday he will sign a contract to become head coach at Maryland "where there is a tremendous challenge."

Driesell said he'll meet with Maryland officials in College Park Wednesday to sign the pact. It reportedly calls for $16,000 a year for five years, plus all of the scholarships for players that the Atlantic Coast Conference will allow.

He will succeed Frank Fellows, dismissed two weeks ago after two losing seasons in which the Terps won only 16 games and lost 34. The Terps haven't had a winning season since 1964-65, when a team under Bud Milliken finished 18-8.

Ann Arbor man Leads all-events

ANN ARBOR — There was only one change in divisional leadership in the Ann Arbor Men's Bowling Association City Tournament this weekend.

Shel Roll of Ann Arbor scored a 1786 actual to take over the all-events actual lead. Roll is seventh in all-events with handicap.

By the time they got to Phoenix, the Detroit Pistons probably wished today they were sleeping so they could perhaps forget for a time the disastrous National Basketball Association nightmare they are living.

The Pistons, who meet Phoenix in their third to last NBA contest of the season tonight, suffered their fifth straight defeat Sunday night, losing to San Diego 120-111. It was the fourth loss on a tour of the West, begun a week ago.

Don Kojis, who led San Diego to victory over Detroit Thursday by scoring 33, hit 34 points Sunday to devastate the Pistons.

The victory, the Rockets' third straight, gave them a 1½-game lead over Chicago in the Western Division — the final playoff berth.

Detroit is in sixth place in the East Division, 27 games behind front-running Baltimore. Only Milwaukee, 31 games back in the East, and Phoenix, 37 behind in the West, have worse NBA records.

In other NBA games Sunday, Los Angeles bombarded Boston 108-73, and the Atlanta Hawks edged Seattle 131-127 in overtime.

In the game at San Diego, the Rockets had seven men in double figures for the first time in their two-year history. Happy Hairston led Detroit with 22 points.

Elvin Hayes of San Diego, the league's leading scorer, collected 15 points but sat out the last 11 minutes with a muscle strain in his left leg. The injury was not considered serious.

Teenagers and drugs:

5 ways to attack problem

By the Associated Press
In offering specific advice and tips to parents concerned with drug use and abuse, specialists in a variety of fields stress five principal approaches:

Keep your cool.
Listen to what your children or young people are really saying.

Get the facts about drugs, and share them with youngsters.
In discipline, be firm but fair. Set good parental examples.

"Too many parents are far more alarmed about drugs than they need to be," says Dr. Kenneth Keniston, Yale psychologist.

Society's reaction to student drug use is "a little hysterical," adds Dr. Richard H. Moy, director of the Health Service at the University of Chicago.

Outraged or panicked, a few parents have even had their own teen-age youngsters arrested for using marijuana once or a few times, says John Finlator, associate director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Knowing how parents may react, youngsters sometimes "like to put them on—for instance, by saying they plan to smoke pot," he adds.

Some, perhaps many, parents are convinced that one experiment with marijuana is a sure step into deep trouble.

But the idea that "if you try marijuana once, you are sure to go on to heroin, or become an acid-head or a pot-head, is simply not true," says Dr. Malcolm B. Bowers, Jr., Yale University psychiatrist who has long studied drug problems. Nor is it true that a single shot of heroin necessarily leads to a life on narcotics.

Youngsters err, however, if they argue that marijuana never leads anyone to stronger drugs. "I went on a weekend that lasted four years," one young man remarks.

No Time for Spying
Some worried parents are monitoring or bugging their teen-agers' telephone conversations, spying to learn if drugs are being mentioned or used. They run enormous risk that their youngsters will hate them if they ever learn they are being spied upon, Finlator says.

Numerous parents are convinced the best way of steering children away from drugs is "to scare the hell out of them," as one father puts it.

Most authorities do not agree with him.

Scare techniques "are even detrimental to conveying needed information about the hazards of drug abuse," says Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, director of the National Institute of Mental Health.

"With the present incidence of marijuana use, many students have either experienced or observed firsthand the effects of this drug," he adds. "They know that psychoses or other grave consequences are not an inevitable concomitant of smoking one marijuana cigarette."

Listening to what children and youths have to say, and discussing matters with them, build bridges of understanding and respect between children and parents.

Youths have reasons for what they think and feel, and their reasons are not always wrong—they are frequently valid.

Parents must set standards and exert controls over children.

Dr. Keniston remarks: "Too many parents, when one talks about the importance of standards, interpret this as an excuse not to have to listen to what their children are trying to tell them. They are so busy setting standards and defining limits that they never hear what their children are saying."

Firm, and well-understood, rules are needed, but on special occasion it's possible they should be modified through discussion and mutual agreement.

"We must rear children in an atmosphere of love and understanding, talk with them, communicate with them," Finlator says. "Listen to and encourage them."

Parents in the Dark
He tells of a young star athlete from a very comfortable home who was convinced "my father doesn't like me—he's never once said he loved me, or that I did something well."

"As I see the problem," he elaborates, "it is not enough to say to children: 'I love you.' We must let them know that no matter what happens, they can call on us when they get into any trouble."

"But in too many affluent families, the last people that youngsters in trouble turn to are the parents. They've had some experience already, or fear the reaction, that if they do have trouble, the parents will scream at them, 'You are ruining me.' Many parents who really care about their children are not transmitting the fact that they do care."

In the listening and discussing, don't focus upon drugs as the big issue with children and youths, most specialists advise. Children and young people are quick to recognize when parents are overanxious.

"If we approach the solution of the drug problem with single-minded determination to eliminate the drugs, or prevent their use by young people, we run the risk of adding to our difficulties rather than minimizing them," says Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth of Harvard.

"Drugs should be viewed as one factor, considered in the same class as other forms of 'acting out' behavior—disrespect for property, acting on impulse, accident proneness, delinquency—and not as the central problem."

"If drug taking were not related to current social conditions and individuals' reactions to them, it would be much easier to deal with," Dr. Farnsworth says. "But the issues are complex; that is, drug taking means something."

New look For Neptune

PALOS VERDES ESTATES Calif. (AP) — For nearly 39 years the object most identified with this tiled-roof peninsula community has been a white marble statue of the Roman ruler of the sea, Neptune. Some called him the naughty Neptune.

He stood—bearded, trident in hand, muscularly nude—looking down from atop a fountain in the Spanish mission style plaza.

Then, a few months ago, Neptune toppled. The steel rods that held him upright rusted through. Of his 6-foot figure, only marble shards remained.

Residents collected $4,000, and a new—but different—Neptune is on the way from the Carrara Marble Co. of Italy.

When Neptune 2 is unveiled in April he'll be but three feet tall. And he'll sport a fig leaf.

New floral service Includes gift delivery

The sending of flowers has long been the ideal way to bring cheer, comfort, thanks, congratulations or welcome, or to make any occasion a little more special.

A new service of the Florists' Transworld Delivery Association (FTD) has added new dimensions of lasting remembrance to the practice of floral gift giving.

With the introduction of its new Speed-A-Gift service, FTD presents an individual approach to the problem of giving the right gift for all occasions. The new service sends flowers along with gifts which are suitable as floral containers and which combine the beauty of fresh flowers with the permanence of home furnishing accessories.

This new inter-city delivery service is expected to be a real life saver for the last minute social or business gift shopper as well as for the shopper in need of a right gift for friends or relatives out of town.

In addition, the program eliminates the time consuming and tiresome ordeal of store-to-store shopping, wrapping and mailing. Customers will be able to see the gift merchandise exactly as it will be delivered via the rapid FTD network.

The Speed-A-Gift program, which offers 12 different gifts, was launched this month on a national basis. The selection of gift articles, suitable for both men and women, has been chosen to fit practically all needs and financial situations.

The items which will be available under the plan include: a china pitcher and bowl set, a china cup and saucer, a metal watering can, an old fashioned drinking mug, a Brentwood box, a silver bowl, a brass tea kettle, a silver bowl, an Early American coffee grinder, and a chrome and plaid ice bucket. For the gourmet the program's connoisseurs collection offers a fondue set, complete with forks, and a chafing dish.

Local dealers who will be cooperating in the Speed-A-Gift program include Durant Florists of 115 W. Michigan Ave., and Norton and Sons of 2900 Washtenaw Ave.

Paper warns Soapy about Return home

MANILA (AP) — The Manila Chronicle editorially warned outgoing U.S. Ambassador G. Mennen Williams and his wife Sunday that "consequences will be unpleasant" if they disregard a law prohibiting the transfer from this country of Philippine cultural properties.

The former Michigan governor and his wife have been purchasing antiques, relics and other cultural artifacts.

"If the ambassador is wise," the Chronicle said, "He will not spoil his term here because he and his wife cannot quell their passion for primitive accumulation."

The editorial followed a similar warning from the director of the National Museum, Gemma Araneta, that the law governing disposition of cultural properties must be obeyed.

Earlier, a Chronicle columnist had called upon authorities to prevent the transfer from this country of the artifacts Ambassador and Mrs. Williams have been purchasing.

The U.S. Embassy has declined comment.

Lady abortion backer Gets used to comments

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A lady senator who is fighting to liberalize Iowa's century-old abortion law says the sharp comments of critics "shook me up at first, but I've become hardened to them."

For example, a recent letter to state Sen. Minnette Dederer began:

"Murderer Dederer: You are a murderer!"

The letter from a constituent went on to voice opposition typical of many to the campaign by the 45-year-old mother of two children.

The blonde senator so far has been unsuccessful in efforts to convince fellow legislators—most of them men—that the state's ban on practically all abortions should be relaxed.

But Mrs. Dederer—Iowa's Democratic national committee woman and a scrappy fighter who lists her occupation as "legislator"—isn't giving up her fight to make abortion a decision of the woman and her doctor.

"I don't really know how I feel about abortion," she says. "I would never have an abortion and I would never urge one on another person."

"I just don't believe the state has the right to make the decision about abortion for a woman."

She calls Iowa's present law "barbaric" and supports a measure which would have made abortions legal if pregnancy endangered the health or life of a woman, was caused by rape or incest, or if doctors concluded the infant would be born with serious mental or physical defects.

The bill was defeated by a close vote in the Republican-dominated state Senate and the law remains as it has for 100 years—prohibiting abortion except when necessary to save the woman's life.

"To me, having a baby is a beautiful thing; it's a joy. It never should be forced on a woman as punishment," she says.

Since the defeat of the liberalization bill, she has introduced two other measures. They would insure that the choice of having an abortion is given solely to a woman and her doctor.

Written encouragement comes in along with the mail against her stand.

One woman wrote she resents "having other people who are completely untouched by these problems tell us that we simply must suffer because that is their belief."

Family Hijacks Plane

HAVANA (AP) — A Colombian airliner was hijacked to Cuba over the weekend by a man accompanied by a woman and a baby.

The DC6 of the Aerocondor Airline is expected to leave Cuba today with its other 36 passengers and crew of eight, the Swiss Embassy indicated.

The man carried a pistol when he took over the plane Saturday night as it flew toward San Andres, a Colombian island off Costa Rica.

It was the third Colombian airliner diverted to Cuba this year and the 23rd airliner hijacking of 1969.

WR seniors set New York dates

The seniors at Willow Run High School have announced that their 5-day class trip to New York City will start May 7.

About 60 students are expected to leave on the jet flight to New York, and take tours, visit the stock exchange, and go to a Broadway show, among other activities.

American Airlines Employees to vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking American Airlines employees will vote Wednesday on a proposed agreement to end the 19-day walkout which has grounded the nation's second largest air carrier.

If the new pact is ratified, a union spokesman said, the workers will return to their jobs starting at 11 p.m. Wednesday.

Top officials of the Transport Workers Union said they reached tentative agreement with the company early Sunday. The proposed pact was approved unanimously later in the day by the union's full negotiating committee of 22 presidents and chairmen of locals in the system's 10 major cities.

The membership vote will follow special meetings Wednesday to explain the tentative agreement to the approximately 12,700 mechanics, communications and service employees it covers.

Details of the agreement were not disclosed, but union negotiators had been asking for a 30 per cent wage increase over two years and other fringe benefits.

The union's old contract which expired last May provided wages ranging from $3.16 to $4.16 per hour.

A strike was called Feb. 27 after 10 months of negotiations and a 30-day cooling off period failed to bring an agreement.

Detroit man Dies in crash

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Alexander German, 29, of Detroit was killed Sunday when the single-engine plane in which he was practicing landings and take-offs plummeted to the ground.

Police said the rental plane, three days old and valued at $8,000, had one empty fuel tank and one full one when it crashed shortly after a takeoff.

Plymouth Scores Most Points in Three Tests

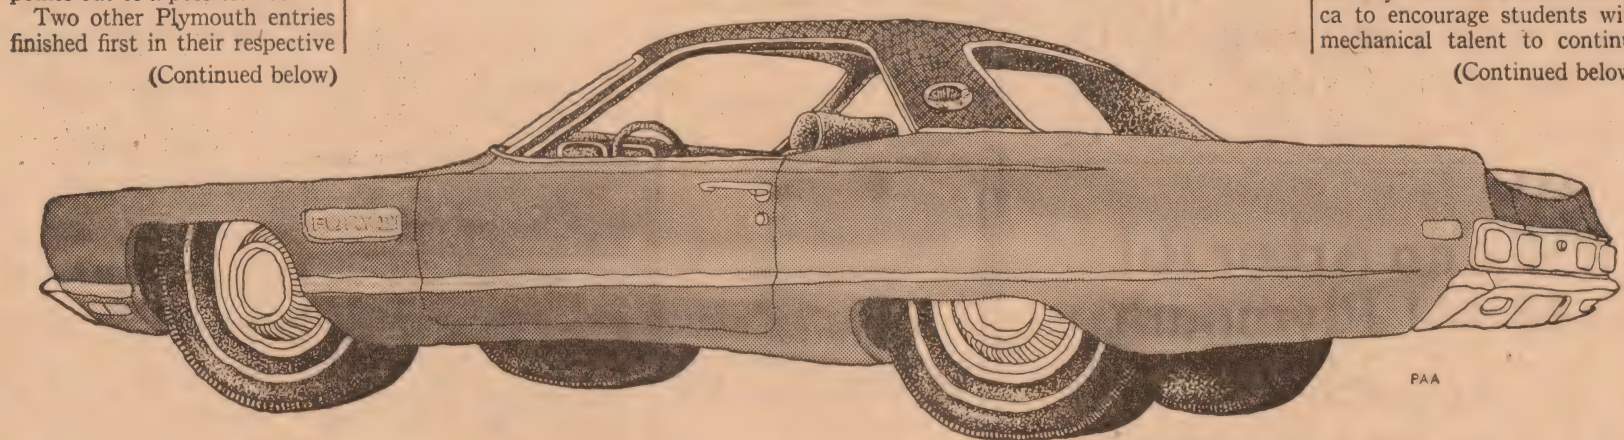

A Plymouth Fury I scored the highest number of points of all 60 cars that competed in fuel economy, acceleration and braking tests of the Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach, Fla.

The Plymouth Fury, competing in Class V for cars equipped with standard V-8 engines, scored a total of 98 performance points out of a possible 100.

Two other Plymouth entries finished first in their respective classes, giving the Plymouth line of cars winners in three out of the nine classes of competition.

Other Plymouth winners were a Valiant Signet in Class VII for six-cylinder compact economy cars, and a Barracuda in Class IX for sports compacts.

The Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials, held under the supervision of the National Association for Stock Car Racing, compared the basic performance characteristics of American-made 1969 models which are in the popular price ranges.

The fuel economy tests measured a car's fuel consumption at an average speed of 40 miles per hour over a distance of 18.567 miles.

The acceleration tests measured the time it took a car to accelerate from 25 to 70 miles per hour.

The braking tests demonstrated the car's high-speed stopping capability immediately after severe brake usage.

The 60 stock cars competing in the tests were taken directly from dealers' showrooms throughout the country to provide a realistic comparison of various makes and models.

Wagon Air Deflector

The 1969 Plymouth Fury station wagon models have a new and efficient air deflector, mounted at the rear of the roof to divert air around and across the big rear window, significantly reducing wind obstruction. By blowing clean air over the window, the deflector prevents rain, dust and grit from accumulating, Everyone says special, but we really mean it. Snapper's a new limited edition car like Plymouth has never made before. It'll shield you from weather's whims under a groovy turtle-shell vinyl top and carry you in a metallic muted-gold body. It has a "camp" Snapper emblem, like the one in the middle, on each roof pillar. An extended roofline that lets your rear seat passengers actually lean back (over 3" extra head room). And, of course, many of the "special" features that most people want: deluxe vinyl interior, white sidewalls, deluxe wheel covers, bumper guards, and a kicky little time-delay ignition switch light, all at a special package price (again, we really mean special). Naturally, you can personalize a Snapper even more, with everything from a Super Commando 440 V-8 to air conditioning or 8-track stereo; just ask your dealer. As a limited edition model with your own personal options, Snapper is a truly individual vehicle. See one now, at your Plymouth Dealer.

their education and pursue careers in the growing automotive business.

The winning two-man team at each of the 100 regional and state contests being held this spring will compete for $125,000 worth of scholarships, prizes, trophies and automotive equipment for their schools at the National Finals at the Indianapolis 500 Speedway in mid-June.

Winners at local and national contests are chosen by the speed and skill with which they find and fix malfunctions under the hood of a new Plymouth and restore the car to normal operating condition. All teams work on identical cars that have been deliberately tampered with in the same way.

Plymouth Dealers sponsor a two-man team from their local school and make a Plymouth car available to practice on. The teams from the 2,000 participating schools, which have a combined enrollment of 150,000 students taking automotive shop courses, are selected by school instructors.

The Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest originated in Los Angeles in 1949. It was sponsored by Plymouth Dealers there who sought to recruit young men as mechanic trainees. The annual contest grew in size as educators gave it their support.

Since the contest became national in scope in 1962, scholarships have been awarded to 116 students and full or part-time jobs have been found for more than 15,000 young men.

ATTRACTIVE RANCH HOME: Very fine three bedroom brick veneer ranch home all in the best of condition. This home has a beautifully finished basement with a fourth bedroom finished down there and also a finished recreation room and a second bath. Modern kitchen with built-in oven and stove. Aluminum screen and storm windows. Wall to wall carpet in living room. Gas heat. This is priced right at $23,600 and we have applied for an FHA mortgage commitment so that the purchase may be handled on convenient terms. Estimated down payment (subject to FHA appraisal) around $1,500 plus mortgage costs.

HICKORY HILLS RANCH HOME: We had this 3 bedroom brick ranch home in the attractive Hickory Hills section on the market last fall — but sale at that time required around $10,000 down, too much for most folks. We have now secured an FHA commitment for $23,400 so that deal can be handled for $1,600 down plus closing costs. Full basement. Extra well insulated. Built in oven and stove. Gas heat. Aluminum screens and storm windows. Garbage disposal. $25,000.

BETWEEN YPSILANTI AND BELLEVILLE: This custom built split level brick home is only 1 year old and has 4 bedrooms in all, 3 upstairs, and one down. Three zone gas fired hot water baseboard type heating system. Kitchen has stainless steel stove. Living room, hall, and all 4 bedrooms, carpeted wall to wall. Full bath up and half bath down. For those of you who prefer plastered walls, this house has them and also marble window sills. 21 foot long Family Room. Fireplace. 2 car garage all plastered and insulated. $34,600.

NEIGHBORHOOD GROCERY STORE: One of the well located and old time grocery stores in a residential area near college. This has provided present and previous owners with an excellent living for years. $7,000 buys all fixtures — stock may be purchased at wholesale inventory cost at time of sale. Building not included, but rent on same is only $75 month. This is a good man and wife operation.
